If you are "A Farmer's Son, proud of . . . Field Lore and Harvest Craft, and feeling all their fine . . possibilities,"

You will not tolerate insecure Gates to your fields, but will have your crops secure behind Newcomen Gates, which are the embodiment of good design, ample strength, and good quality.

The prices have again been reduced but the finish gets better and better.

You cannot afford to be without them. Buy now when you are young. Half a Century hence your grandson will say with Hawthorn—

They are a wonder and nothing less.
Colts grew horses, beards turned grey,
Designer and maker dropped away;
The machines that made them—where are they?
Little of all we value here
Is to the fore in its fiftieth year.
Without both feeling and looking queer
These Newcomen Gates show no signs of wear.

Notice of Sitting for Proof of Debts—21.
SAORSTAT EIREANN.
HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE—IN BANKRUPTCY.
In the Matter of
FRANCIS NORTH, of 58 Thomas street, in the City of Dublin, Butcher, a Bankrupt (adjudicated a Bankrupt in the month of May, 1911).

A Public Sitting in this matter will be held before the Chief Registrar at the Law Courts, The Castle, Dublin, on Monday, the 8th day of September, 1924, at the hour of Eleven o'clock, forenoon, for the Proof and Admission of Debts and for the vouching of the Official Assignee's account.

A creditor may prove his debt at the sitting, or send his affidavit of debt in the prescribed form, or his detailed account to the under-named Official Assignee four days previously to the sitting, in order to have the same admitted.

Owing to the destruction of papers in the burning of the Four Courts, all proofs of debt and records of claim sent to the Official Assignee before May, 1922, have been destroyed, and, therefore a creditor who sent in a claim before that date must now send in a duplicate, otherwise the Court can have no knowledge of his demand.

Dated this 26th day of August, 1924.

Type 4133, Price 16/11.

Country Post Orders—Money refunded in full if not satisfactory.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS NEW CREATION ARE:
No. 1. It corsets the figure without the harsh restrictions of the ordinary corset.
No. 2. The soft boning at front is set diagonally, giving support to the abdomen and prevents that ugly line.
No. 3. It gives a smart back line and will not bind at the waist line.
No. 4. It has no front steel or clasp and no lacing, and is without the inconvenience of the Pull-over Belt.
No. 5. The sections of elastic webbing at the side are so constructed that the flesh is held in its proper place, and at the same time gives that feeling of being uncorseted.
No. 6. The hooks and eyes are at the side, and this fastening feature is a wonderful convenience. It is so easy to put on or slip off.
No. 7. It will give you the slender youthful lines demanded by the fashions of to-day.

RUGBY.

BRITISH XV. v. PRETORIA.

PRETORIA, August 27.

The touring British Rugby team, dogged by illness and injuries to its playing members until it has now an active list of only fourteen, to-day met the Pretoria XV., and was defeated by 6 points to nil. Seven thousand people watched the game, which was played in fine weather and on good turf. The tourists omitted Clinch and Voyce from their provisional side, and played eight backs and seven forwards, Waddell being given a roving commission. Pretoria played as selected. Play in the first half was very scrappy. Exchanges were even, although the home side forced most of the play into the British half, and the interval arrived with a blank score sheet.

On the game being resumed Pretoria attacked determinedly, and after five minutes' play Malherbe crossed the British line for a try, which was not converted. Twelve minutes later Borman, the Pretoria full-back, dropped a fine goal from a penalty. The British rallied, and executed some promising movements, which, however, failed to materialise, and the game ended in a victory for Pretoria.

The British XV. played a fine, sporting game, and made every effort to keep the game as open as possible, but their attacks lacked finish. Many observers are of opinion that they would have done better with another forward instead of the extra three-quarter. They were better individually than collectively. Davies acquitted himself well, and Harding played a magnificent game, and was the best back in the field. The Pretorians played well, kicking and handling in reliable fashion, and they lasted better than the visitors. Result:—

Pretoria—1 penalty goal, 1 try (6 points).
British XV.—Nil.

YACHTING.

TORQUAY ROYAL REGATTA.

The yachts were again favoured with delightful weather at Torquay yesterday, when racing was under the management of the Royal Tor Bay Yacht Club. There was a capital breeze from the north-west at the start of the day's programme, and it increased in force as the afternoon wore on. The yachts were sent on an easterly course, which gave them a run to the first mark, then a reach across Tor Bay to Brixham, with a dead beat home. Britannia won a popular victory, White Heather giving up after the third round. Candida won in the Handicap Class, under 70 tons, Dorina being second, and Thanet gave up after carrying away her bowsprit. Positions were frequently changed in the Twelve-Metre Race, which Noresca won, Clymene being second and Moyana third. Ayesha won the Six-Metre Race. Details:—Handicap for Yachts exceeding 100 tons, T.M. Course 40 miles. Start 10.30 a.m.—As they crossed the line Lulworth led Britannia, but had White Heather on her weather. Spinnakers were tried for half the distance to the first mark. Britannia was well served by the breeze, and, sailing fast, was ahead at the eastern mark boat. The wind was hardening as they reached to Brixham, where White Heather was second, Lulworth being astern. These positions were maintained, and on the third round the yachts opened out considerably. Sir Charles Allom's cutter retired, but Lulworth continued her stern chase, the times at the finish being:—

	H.	M.	S.
Britannia	2	5	45
Lulworth	2	13	8

International Twelve-Metre Class. Course 30 miles. Start 10.45 a.m.—Noresca established a good lead, which she maintained to the finish, which was timed:—

LEINSTER V. COUNTY KILDARE.

The wicket at Rathmines yesterday was very easy when Leinster opened their innings in the League match with Co. Kildare, and after two hours and a half's batting the home side, who were weakly represented, were able to declare at 158 for 9 wickets. An hour and a half remained for play; but when the visitors had scored 27 for the loss of two wickets heavy rain came on, and further play was impossible. For Leinster, Kempster, who gave a chance early on, played a fine innings of 47. He assisted Wise to put on 39 for the second wicket, and his succeeding partnership with Jacob realised 32. Jacob, who went in second wicket down, was ninth out. His batting at the outset was shaky, but he soon settled down, and with Kempster shared the batting honours, his 40 being a very useful contribution. Keyes bowled with much success, taking five wickets at a cost of seven runs each. Score:—

R. AND S.P.U. V. PHŒNIX.

The wicket at Park avenue yesterday, when Railway Union and Phœnix met in their Senior League tie, was very slow, and altogether in favour of the bowlers. The weather was fine, but dull, and rain came on just as stumps were drawn, leaving the match undecided. Phœnix having declared with seven wickets down for 139, and Railway Union having lost half their wickets for 80. Phœnix, who played two men short, batted first, and were by no means at home at the start, losing two wickets for 11. However T. Pigott batted in lively style for 45, and Kidd, who was by no means at ease, was at the wickets for an hour and thirty-five minutes for 57, hitting one 6. Five wickets were down for 110, but the others did little or nothing. C. Sully (4 for 52) was the most successful of the home bowlers. Railway Union opened well, Head getting a grand 6 over the pavilion in his 25. L. Bookman, although he got 20, was a long time about it, but the home team had 5 wickets down for 73, and when the end came were 80 for 5. Kidd took 3 wickets for 27, and D. Pigott 2 for 22. Score:—

SURREY V. LEICESTERSHIRE.

Against very steady bowling the batsmen found run-getting a matter of great difficulty at Kennington Oval yesterday, and for most of the afternoon a keen struggle ensued. Surrey, after dismissing Leicestershire cheaply, built up a strong position, leaving off 17 runs ahead with eight wickets in hand, but they always had to fight hard. In getting Leicestershire out for the moderate total of 133, Surrey owed much to the skilful bowling of Fenley and smart work by Strudwick. Maintaining a good length, while making the ball turn appreciably, Fenley always troubled the batsmen, his seven wickets for 57 representing good work. Coulson batted soundly for 75 minutes while helping Leicestershire to send up 50 with only one man out, but after the second wicket had fallen at 55 no batsman made a prolonged stay. Kept quiet by the accurate length bowling of Skelding and Astill, Hobbs and Sandham occupied 55 minutes in the opening partnership of 42, and when German brought off a remarkable catch in the slips, holding the ball just above the ground as he threw himself full length, Surrey had two wickets down for 58. For the remainder of the afternoon, however, Sandham and Shepherd defied the attack by stern batting, and during an unbroken third wicket stand of 92 carried Surrey's total past that of Leicestershire. Sandham, in wonderful form just now, reached 50 in an hour and fifty minutes, and Shepherd, driving powerfully towards the close, completed the same number in eighty-five minutes. Score:—

KENT V. WARWICKSHIRE.

Kent did well at Dover, remaining in all day against keen bowling and fielding to total 350. Although there was a collapse at the close, it was chiefly due to the effort to get runs quickly. The principal feature of the day's play was the splendid innings of Seymour, who returned to his best form at a time when failure might have made it awkward for Kent. Staying two hours and a half he made 103 out of 187, and hit in most attractive fashion all round the wicket. His principal scoring strokes were one 5 and fifteen 4's, and he never made a mistake. When the game started Warwickshire had to take the field without Hewetson, whose bag had gone astray in London. Hardinge and Bryan put on 48, but both left at the same total. Woolley quickly hit up 26 before being caught at second slip, and after his departure Hedges stayed an hour and a half to help to add 126. After tea a bright partnership by Collins and Knott further improved Kent's position, the former staying seventy minutes to score 58 out of 105. Knott, last out, was batting an hour and twenty minutes for 64, and he was eventually dismissed in trying to force the game. Kent's last four wickets fell for 10 runs, Quaife being responsible. His last spell of bowling gave him five wickets in seventeen balls for 4 runs. Score:—

SOMERSETSHIRE V. SOUTH AFRICANS.

The weather was cold and cheerless at Taunton yesterday, but 6,000 spectators were present to see Somerset commence their last match of the season with the South Africans, who made three changes from the team that lost to Kent. The visiting captain, after winning the toss, put the home side in on a slow, wet wicket. The Somerset innings lasted five minutes short of three hours, but it was a rather colourless affair, apart from the partnership of MacBryan and White, who put on 60 runs in thirty-five minutes for the second wicket when MacBryan was stumped. He scored 59 out of 73 obtained during an hour. White batted seventy minutes. Leach, a professional, who formerly played for Lancashire, stayed in for half-an-hour with White, during which 31 were scored. He was very quick between the wickets, and later fielded well. The South African fielding was mostly moderate, for catches were dropped and runs given away. Blanckenberg came out with the best analysis of 6 for 76. The South Africans lost the first four wickets for 36, three particularly good catches being made; but Taylor and Catterall then set up an effective partnership, so that at the end of the day the visitors were 68 behind with six wickets in hand. WORCESTERSHIRE V. NOTTS.

Cricket was seen under delightful conditions at Worcester yesterday, and the unusual experience was quite to the liking of the crowd. The only feature of the Worcestershire innings was an admirable 77 not out by the Old Oxonian, H. O. Hopkins, who earlier in the season obtained 137 runs against Notts at Trent Bridge. He made his 50 in seventy minutes and, in all, played an hour and a half, hitting eleven 4's. Notts, apart from George Gunn, showed little enterprise, Whysall batting tamely, but, with seven wickets in hand, they are only 70 in arrears. Score:—

HAMPSHIRE V. YORKSHIRE.

After a little rain in the night, the wicket at Portsmouth yesterday proved unexpectedly difficult, and during the day seventeen batsmen were dismissed for an aggregate of 187. Yorkshire looked to have done well when they got their opponents out for 74, in two hours and three-quarters, but they themselves fared little better, though thanks chiefly to the steadiness of Holmes, a lead of 39 was gained for the loss of seven wickets. Kilner and Macaulay had Hampshire in trouble from the start. Often the ball reared dangerously from the pitch, which was hard in some places and soft in others. Losing half their wickets for 19, Hampshire improved their position somewhat by reason of Day's patient batting and a few forcing strokes by Newman, but no one could rise really superior to the difficulties of the pitch. Bowling unchanged, and sharing the wickets, Kilner and Macaulay had a remarkable analysis, for each wicket cost only about six runs. The Yorkshire innings opened with disappointment, Sutcliffe being out before a run had been scored, and although Oldroyd and Holmes added 58 before the bowlers had another success, seven men were got rid of for 96. This collapse was brought about by Kennedy, who, almost unplayable after tea, took five wickets at a cost of 11 runs. His figures so far are 5 for 31. The only batsman to succeed to any extent—Holmes—was sixth out at 94, of which he obtained 60 by all-round strokes in two hours, hitting eight 4's. Score:—

GLOUCESTERSHIRE V. SCOTLAND

Gloucestershire were not quite at full strength for this match, at Bristol yesterday, but they had the best of the play. Batting first, they made 222 before their innings was declared, with nine men out. Sinfield, whose period of qualification expires next July, showed promising form in making 50 out of 94 in eighty minutes. He made some neat strokes, particularly on the off side. Later Robinson and Rogers added 87 in forty-five minutes. Both forced the game, the latter hitting one 6 and five 4's. Mills and Dennett also got runs quickly. The visitors' bowling lacked variety, but Watt and Scobie met with success. Their fielding was good, Kerr and Groves making brilliant catches, but the batting proved uneven. Groves showed best form, though the most profitable stand was made by Hole and Weir, who raised the total from 41 to 103. The former was out in the last over of the day, after a stay of ninety minutes. Scotland finished up seventy-nine behind, with three wickets in hand. Score:—

GLAMORGAN V. LEVESON-GOWER'S XI.

Glamorgan made a good start against a representative side captained by Mr. Leveson-Gower at Swansea yesterday, but after 101 had been put on for the first wicket, subsequent batsmen failed, the last six wickets falling for 31 runs. Mr. Leveson-Gower's XI. includes four players selected for the Australian tour, and in all has seven men who have played for England. Glamorgan, when they seemed set for a good score, became reckless, and mishits gave Chapman three easy catches. The visitors had 80 minutes' batting, during which they scored 60 for the loss of Douglas's wicket. Score:—

SUSSEX V. LANCASHIRE.

So completely did the batsmen fail at Brighton yesterday that 21 wickets fell in the match between Sussex and Lancashire for an aggregate of 199 runs. Batting first on a pitch damaged by early morning rain, Lancashire were dismissed in two hours and a quarter for 76. Sussex fared little better, for they could only put together a total of 123, and then Lancashire going in again for five minutes lost the wicket of Makepeace before a run had been scored. Quite the outstanding feature in a remarkable day's cricket was the excellent bowling of Tate for Sussex and Parkin for Lancashire. Bowling unchanged, Tate had the splendid analysis of 7 for 41. It was after lunch, however, that he performed his best work, for in the course of ten overs and four balls he took five of the last six wickets at a cost of 16 runs. Parkin, too, bowled unchanged, and though he was more freely hit he came out with 7 wickets for 67. Score:—

COURT ORDERS IGNORED.—When John J. Kavanagh was charged at Bunclody, Co. Wexford, with having taken forcible possession of premises, the magistrate said that the really bad feature of the case was that it was the fourth in Bunclody district of interference with the Court's orders. The defendant gave an undertaking not to again interfere with the property. The case was adjourned for six months. The magistrate said that in the case of the next man convicted at Bunclody of interference with the orders of the Court he would sentence him to six months' hard labour. This was the only district in the county where such cases had arisen.

FAULT OF THE DRINK.—At Newry Petty Sessions yesterday George Lundy, an elderly man, was bound in the sum of £20, with two sureties of £10 each, to keep the peace for twelve months on the charge of assaulting a police sergeant. The defendant, who said that he had lost a son in the Dardanelles, and was never the same since, pleaded that the drink "took to his head," and he remembered nothing about the affair. Three women who were summoned for riotous conduct by inciting the crowd to attack the sergeant in the struggle were fined 10s. each and costs.

FRUIT HAWKERS "PERSECUTED."—In the Belfast Summons Court yesterday, twenty-two street fruit sellers were prosecuted for obstructing the traffic. In asking for an adjournment, the solicitor for the defendants said that the fruit-sellers wished to be represented by counsel, as they believed that they had a grievance, and thought that they were being persecuted by the police at the instance of shopkeepers. The cases were adjourned for a week.

NOTIFICATION OF BIRTHS ACT.

THE RIGHT TO PROSECUTE.

In the Dublin District Court yesterday, before Mr. G. P. Cussen, District Justice, several persons were prosecuted at the suit of the Corporation for offences under the Notification of Births Act, 1907.

Mr. O hUadhaigh, solicitor, who appeared for some of the defendants, submitted that under the Criminal Justice Administration Act the Corporation had no power to prosecute the summonses. According to Section 9 of the Act, all criminal prosecutions should be at the suit of the Attorney-General, unless some other person was designated in the statute to be prosecutor.

Mr. Cussen said that he had not seen the Act, but, according to Mr. O hUadhaigh, the onus was thrown on Mr. Burke (Law Agent to the Corporation) to show that he was authorised to prosecute.

Mr. Burke said that the Notification of Births Act was adopted with the other Acts, and anybody could prosecute. The local authority had adopted the Act, and they were the people to put it into operation. He had been taken very much by surprise, and had not seen the Act referred to.

Mr. O hUadhaigh said that, if his interpretation of the Act was correct, practically nine-tenths of the ordinary criminal summonses would go by the board, unless they were prosecuted by the Attorney-General. It might be a good thing to adjourn the hearing of the summonses in order to give them an opportunity of looking into the question.

The cases were then adjourned to a future day.

CHARGE OF STEALING A WATCH.

A middle-aged man, of refined appearance, who had posed as Lord Derby's brother, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Birmingham yesterday. He was charged with stealing a gold watch from the landlady of the Woolpack Hotel. The prisoner, Frank James Marchant, represented that his car had broken down at Coventry; he was unwell, and a watch was placed at his bedside, as he had to take medicine at intervals. He subsequently pawned the watch, and, it appeared, owed money to the Guildford hotel-keepers.

LAWN TENNIS.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIPS.

FOREST HILLS, August 27.

After a blank day yesterday owing to rain, play in the preliminary rounds of the American National Lawn Tennis Singles Championship was resumed here to-day in fine weather.

W. T. Tilden, the holder, who is defending his title, stated in an interview that he is considering retiring from the game in 1925 to accept a motion picture contract. The champion stated that the step had no connection with the decision of the United States Lawn Tennis Association on his amateur status.

Details:—Norton beat Griffin—6-1, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3; Hennessy beat Harada—1-6, 6-2, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2; Patterson beat Martin—6-4, 6-4, 7-9, 6-0; Fukuda beat Pearson—6-4, 6-4, 6-1; Kinsey beat King—1-6, 6-4, 7-9, 8-6, 6-3; Chaplin beat Brugnon—6-2, 0-6, 6-1, 10-8; Johnston beat Schlesinger—6-3, 6-3, 6-3; Dean Mathey beat Kalms—6-4, 8-6, 3-6, 3-6, 6-1; B. A further indication of the movement of Americans to Canada is seen in the fact that negotiations are under way for the acquisition of 12,000 acres of land in the West for the formation of a community of approximately 80 families from Ohio and Virginia. The new community will consist of experienced farmers and scientific agriculturists.

PICTURES BY WIRELESS.

ANOTHER STEP TOWARDS TELEVISION.

Television, it is claimed, will be brought appreciably nearer by the invention of two London men—Mr. W. S. Stephenson, managing director of the General Radio Company, and Mr. G. W. Walton. They have discovered a "light sensitive" device which will enable pictures to be transmitted by wire or wireless with almost the speed of cinematograph films.

"It makes television possible," Mr. Stephenson stated, "but we do not claim that it is actual television yet. The difficulty in the way of actual television is the question of speed.

"Our device is an advance on the slow action method at present in use, and it is quite possible to look forward to the time when one may sit at home and by pressing a button, say, enjoy one's own private film show.

"Another adaption will, of course, be the ability to see the person with whom one is conducting a telephone conversation."

Nervous digestive troubles, sleeplessness, and general lack of tone respond readily to treatment with Cassell's Tablets. Give them a trial at once if you have any nervous symptom

Mr. Albert Allen's Case.

In a letter from 31, Vespan Road, Shepherd's Bush, London, W. 12, Mr. Albert Allen, who is an omnibus conductor for the London General Omnibus Co., says: "Ten weeks ago I commenced with a bad nervous breakdown, which was associated with severe digestive troubles. I crawled about like a man half dead, and in the course of a fortnight I lost 21lb. in weight. But after taking two cartons of your tablets I commenced to improve. I stopped losing weight, and now after continuing the treatment I am a different man. I gained 8lb. in five days, and I can eat anything. My nerves are also strong again, and I can go to work feeling absolutely fit. My sleep too has improved, and I awake in the morning feeling refreshed."

RIDING ON THE STEP OF A TRAIN.

IRISH CATTLE DEALER FINED.

At Holyhead yesterday, Detective-Inspector Coulston, London, Midland and Scottish Railway Co., summoned John O'Brien, a cattle dealer, whose address was given as the North Star Hotel, Dublin, for riding on the step of a train in motion.

Mr. Evans, who prosecuted, stated that the defendant arrived at Holyhead from Kingstown by the night boat, and upon reaching the railway station, entered the refreshment rooms. Later a porter named Allan Davies called out at the door, "All passengers for the mail train, please take your seats." All in the refreshment rooms hurried out, with the exception of the defendant, who waited until the train was on the move, when he ran out and jumped on the step of the sleeping saloon, the door of which was locked. Davies at once telephoned to the Valley station, where signalman T. J. Dawson saw the defendant still on the step. Dawson passed the word along to Tycroes for the train to be stopped. Before reaching that station, however, saloon attendant J. Eynstone had occasion to pass through the corridor and saw the defendant and asked him what he was doing there. The train was stopped, and later the defendant told a detective that he would give them a run for their money, before he was served with a summons.

The defendant was fined £5, including costs.

CAPE TO CAIRO BY CAR.

MAJOR AND MRS. COURT TREATT TO MAKE THE ATTEMPT.

An attempt to cross Africa from the Cape to Cairo by motor car is to be made by Major and Mrs. Court Treatt, in whose honour a farewell dinner was given last night in London at the Royal Automobile Club. Major Treatt has previously flown over the route, but it has never before been covered by car.

The adventurous couple will be accompanied by two mechanics and an official photographer. The greater part of the journey, which will be made in two Crossley cars, will be over country where roads are unknown. The cars will plunge through jungles, climb mountains and cross deserts, and they can be converted into pontoons when rivers are encountered.

Major Treatt, who is being given every assistance by the Government, will survey the route to determine its transport possibilities. It is expected that the journey will take six months.

The Queen, accompanied by Lady Bertha Dawkins and Sir Derek Keppel, left Carbery Tower yesterday morning for Edinburgh.

GREAT DUBLIN HOUSING SCHEME.

1,500 DWELLINGS ON NORTH SIDE.

A scheme for the erection of a further 1,500 houses on the North side of the city is being promoted by the Dublin City Commissioners. This scheme is in addtion to the big scheme now held up at Marino, under which between 1,200 and 1,500 houses are contemplated. The site of the new scheme covers about 160 acres. It will involve an expediture of over £1,000,000, and will provide continuous employment for about 3,000 men for from three to four years.

Of the total cost it is expected that the Government will provide £700,000, and the balance will be raised by a loan.

The site of the new housing scheme lies between Upper Drumcondra road and Glasnevin, along the Tolka River. The greater part of the 160 acres is within the Butterly and Lindsay estates, and has for some time been let on the eleven months' system for grazing.

Some seventy owners of lands and houses will have to be eliminated and compensated for their various interests. Between ten and eleven acres will be taken from the grounds of the Marlborough Hall; seven acres from the lands attached to Delville House, and a few roods from the grounds of St. Patrick's Training College. It is further proposed to wipe out "Fairfield," an old mansion on the Glasnevin road, twelve houses in Milbourne avenue, three of which have dairy yards, and two houses in Botanic avenue.

The new trunk road to connect Clontarf with Glasnevin will link up Home Farm road, Whitehall, with Glasnevin, and will terminate on the site of Fairfield. This will necessitate the construction of a new bridge over the Tolka.

The road has already been begun at the Clontarf end near Marino, and will run thence to Whitehall, thus giving a grand connecting link between Glasnevin and the sea road, which should prove a very useful and very welcome highway for residents in the Glasnevin and Drumcondra areas.

The Marino building site lies on this road, and a further scheme is in contemplation to erect some hundreds of houses between the Marino site and the proposed site of the new scheme. The houses are planned to provide every modern requirement. A small garden will be attached to each, and it is hoped to bring the rents within the capacity of the average thrifty working man.

Having failed in most cases to obtain satisfactory replies from the owners, particularly from those in Milbourne avenue, steps were taken to exercise compulsory powers conferred by the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890-1921. The Local Government Department is being asked for sanction to the scheme, and the usual local inquiry will be held in due course.

It is hoped to begin building operations in the early spring, and contracts for the houses will be taken for sections of about 300

£800,000 DRY DOCK.

It is reported from Kingston (Ontario) that plans are under way for the building there of a new dry dock to cost approximately £800,000 and to quadruple existing facilities. The construction of the new dry dock, it is stated, will take at least three years. It will be 300 ft. wide and 700 ft. long.

WATERFORD WATERWORKS.

At a meeting of Waterford Corporation a report was received from Mr. J. J. Fleming, Borough Surveyor, on the water supply, in which he stated that in July, 1919, the Council invited the eminent waterworks engineers, Messrs. Sir Alex Binnie and Son, and Deacon of Westminster, to report on a supplemental supply to the city, and, after a personal visit, they concluded their report by stating:—"We have no hesitation in recommending that the additional water required can be obtained from the Knockaderry reservoir by increasing the capacity of that reservoir, laying a new main, and providing the necessary filters and service to the reservoir." The probable cost of this work they estimated at £80,000.

Beyond a variation in the estimate due to the reduction in cost of materials, etc., Mr. Fleming considers the above conclusions to be the only practical solution of the problem. After some discussion it was decided to refer the report for consideration to the Waterworks Committee.

Consumption Cannot Be Eliminated,

But it can be drastically cut as regards cost. The well-known S. and P. Gas and Air Incorporator is made in Dublin by Irish Labour, and is the most efficient machine of its kind in the world. If you use heat treatment in your industrial processes you cannot afford to be without one of these machines, for they reduce heating costs from 30 to 50 per cent., paying for themselves out of savings effected in from 2 to 3 years.

MESSRS. MACARTHUR'S NEW AUCTION GALLERIES, LOWER GARDINER STREET.

The photograph illustrates the new auction galleries which Messrs. MacArthur and Co., auctioneers, have recently opened at Lower Gardiner street.

The hall is 96 feet by 22 feet, with roof constructed of timber trusses of the type known as the Belfast principle. The floor is of timber laid direct on breeze concrete, bedded in pitch and tar, and the side walls are built of concrete.

The entire lighting and ventilation is produced by two large lantern lights.

The general contractors were Messrs. F. P. McMahon, 13 Millmount avenue, Drumcondra, who carried out the work to the plans of Messrs. Higginbotham and Stafford, architects, 24 Nassau street.

THE WORLD'S TIMBER SUPPLY.

DANGER OF FAMINE.

Messrs. Craig and Storey, addressing the joint sections of Botany and Agriculture of the British Association at Toronto, anticipated a world famine in timber unless proper measures were taken almost immediately. Apart from fuel, which was usually obtained from hardwoods, an overwhelming proportion of the timber required for industrial purposes was produced by pine, spruce, and other coniferous species. With a few exceptions, these were limited to the North American Continent, Northern Europe, and Asia. But there could not be permanent reliance on supplies from these regions. In Europe timber consumption every year far exceeded forest growth. Siberia, no doubt, had vast unexplored resources, but there and in Russia development was difficult from the difficulty and expense of extracting the timber, apart from political troubles. The United States consumed nearly half the world's production of timber, and at the present rate of depletion it seemed as if the virgin forests of the United States and of Canada would not last more than from 25 to 30 years. In view of the failing supplies and the slow growth of trees, there was urgent need for the reafforestation of devastated areas, for the protection of young growth, and a more competent conservation of the remainder of the original forests.

Mr. J. W. Toumey said that 35 years ago the United States had no public forests organised for continuous production. Now there were nearly 165 million acres of national, State, and communal forests. But it seemed probable that this acreage of publicly owned forest would not increase rapidly enough to solve the problem of wood supply. All the land in the United States that could be regarded as forest land would have to be intensively managed for continuous yield before the annual growth would even approach requirements. Nearly four-fifths of the entire forest area was still privately owned and the trend of public opinion was towards the development of that to its full extent by coercive or by co-operative measures. The balance of opinion appears to tend towards co-operation between the State and private owners, the assistance being given in the form of protection from fire and relief from taxation. The past quarter of a century has seen a remarkable advance in education and research in forestry, with the result that private owners are beginning to make great efforts towards continuous production of timber. The establishment of processes for the efficient management of privately owned forest property, in his opinion, was the direction in which the future of the United States as a timber-producing country might be secured.

Mr. D. Roy Cameron described the methods in practice in Canada for forest fire protection, and Mr. E. H. Finlayson discussed the steps that had been taken towards the continuous production of timber. The general trend of the discussion was to the effect that the age of exploiting virgin forests was quickly drawing to a close and that the future of timber supply for all purposes could be secured only by methods of continuous silviculture, in which replacement by planting more than made up for the depletion by cropping.

INTERNATIONAL FOUNDRY EXHIBITION.

The second International Foundry Trades Exhibition at Bingley Hall, Birmingham, now in progress, includes, in addition to a big array of standard equipment, many examples of recent developments in the foundry practice of other countries.

The embargo which was placed on German exhibits when this enterprise was inaugurated two years ago does not apply on the present occasion. Dr. Werner, a leader of the foundry industry in Germany, is taking a prominent part in the exposition and technical discussion by which it is sought to reinforce its educational value. A sideblast cupola with reversing generators, such as is largely used in Germany as a result of tests made at the Werner works, Dulken, is among the novelties illustrated. A French speciality is a rimless sand mill, in which a flat revolving plate is substituted for the usual pan, the sand being placed on it and passed under rollers and through teeth scrapers, which prevent caking. This is the first mill of its kind seen in this country. A powerful tractor sandslinger, electrically operated, shows how America is overcoming the problem of effective ramming. Machines of this type are now being made in Scotland under arrangement with the patentees. That a new impulse is stirring in the British foundry trade is indicated by a large display of new appliances and equipment of native origin.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

In a circular to Education Authorities the British Board of Education draws attention to the fact that if progress is to be made in the supply and development of advanced instruction under the Education Act of 1921, the size of the classes in which it must be given must be limited; and in a previous circular the Board intimated that it could not accept plans of new buildings or extensions the classrooms of which are designed to accommodate more than 50 scholars. The Board now states that in future new buildings and extensions must be so designed that the class-rooms shall provide 10 sq. ft. for every scholar under 11 years of age, the maximum number of scholars in a room being 50, and for scholars over 11 the space per scholar must be 12 sq. ft., and the majority of these rooms must not contain more than 40 places.

CONCRETE FOR HOUSES.

TWO PRACTICAL METHODS.

Mr. Douglas Wood, F.R.I.B.A., F.S.I., late Housing Commissioner to the British Ministry of Health, writes on the housing question as follows:—

The recent excitement in the House of Commons, due to Mr. Wheatley's statement as to the possibility of solving the housing shortage by building with iron sheets on timber framework, together with letters by ex-Ministers of Health and other notable persons, whilst whetting public appetite for sensational disclosures, goes no farther than emphasising the difficulties of the situation.

After careful study of the matter for the past five years, during which period I have had practical experience of most forms of special construction, I have come to the conclusion that the problem can only be solved on lines which entirely eliminate the bricklayer and the plasterer, and, at the same time, give a structure that may reasonably be expected to last 60 years, with walls that are vermin proof.

The iron sheet and timber frame type of house does not fulfil the latter very necessary requirement, and for that reason alone it will be unsuitable for erection in large numbers in crowded areas. The only other practical method (excluding brick-built houses) is by concrete methods of construction.

Since 1920 hundreds of methods of concrete construction have been patented and tried out, but very few have emerged successfully from the test of practical application. Concrete methods divide themselves into three distinct groups—namely:—

1. The concrete block method of construction (which requires the assistance of bricklayers and plasterers to a limited extent, and, therefore, does not meet the requirements mentioned).
2. The concrete post and panel method.
3. The poured concrete method involving the use of shuttering).

The two latter methods can be constructed in such a manner as to eliminate the bricklayer and plasterer, and are, therefore, the lines along which success must be looked for. They also have the advantage of reducing the use of the skilled labourer in all trades to the greatest extent, thereby making it possible to employ large bodies of unskilled labourers, thus helping to relieve unemployment.

£2,000,000 NEW HIGHWAY.

The first sod of the new Glasgow to Edinburgh highway was cut at the corner of Cumbernauld road and Todd street, Glasgow, by Mrs. Montgomery, wife of the Lord Provost of Glasgow, in the presence of a large company, which included Mr. Harry Gosling, Minister of Transport; Sir Henry Maybury, Director-General of Roads; and Mr. William Adamson, Secretary for Scotland. After the formal ceremony, Mr. Gosling laid a granite memorial milestone with an inscribed bronze plate.

The new road is one of the many unemployment relief schemes which are being carried out all over the country, and will cost about £2,115,000 to complete, of which the largest proportion will undoubtedly go in wages to men who are at present unemployed.

The new route will be 41.72 miles in length from Glasgow, passing through Central Lanarkshire, the southern half of Linlithgowshire, and the northern corner of Midlothian to Edinburgh. It involves the construction of over 23 miles of new road, and the widening of about 16 miles of existing road. The cost of the road will be borne by the Ministry of Transport, who initiated the scheme. The whole work will be carried out by contract, and Mr. D. A. Donald, formerly Burgh Engineer of Grangemouth, on Firth of Forth, is the chief engineer.

The first eleven miles of the road from Glasgow will be new, crossing the existing Glasgow-Airdrie road to the village of Newhouse. The first four miles will be 120ft. wide between fences, with two 30ft. carriageways, a reserve space of 30ft. in the centre, and a footpath of 15ft. on either side. The width of the latter part will be 100ft., with a 30ft. carriage way in the centre, and a footpath and margin 35ft. wide on either side. The remainder of the road, except for the last section in Edinburgh, will be the same width and similarly divided. In Edinburgh, at the junction of Bathgate and Linlithgowshire roads, the new road will branch to Queensferry road, which will be followed east for nearly two miles, at the end of which the new road will lead to the termination of the route in Ferry road at Crewe Toll Junction.

The section of the new road in Edinburgh will be 60ft. wide, with 40ft. carriage way. Only one contract has been placed, namely, for the Glasgow-Baillieston section of about four miles, and on this work, as stated, is held up.

GREAT DOCK BUILDING SCHEME.

Preliminary operations for the construction of Glasgow's new docks are in progress. The scheme aims at adding almost seven miles to the quayage of the port: the cost may range from £16,000,000 to £20,000,000, and the work, even under the most favourable conditions, is likely to last between 20 and 30 years.

To ensure that improvements may be incorporated and that profit may be earned as speedily as possible, the scheme will be undertaken in sections.

In the stretch of river front from Shieldhall to Renfrew six parallel basins, with the necessary graving docks, are to be formed. No. 1 dock is the smallest of the six, and will be constructed nearest to Glasgow. The length is 5,750 feet, width 350 feet, and water surface 40¼ acres. At low water the depth will be 32 feet, which is seven feet deeper than Rothesay dock under the same conditions.

Approximately 1,000 men are to be employed on the building of the basin, and its cost, including sheds and cranes, will probably be in the neighbourhood of £2,000,000.

The wet and dry docks will accommodate the greatest of modern vessels.

The Irish Times.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1924.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

At the Local Government inquiry yesterday into the performance of their duties by the Cork Corporation, a witness giving evidence as to the neglected condition of the quays, said that the roadway on one of them had not been re-surfaced within living memory.—(Page 9.)

The Court of Criminal Appeal in Dublin yesterday refused an application on behalf of Michael Delaney, who was sentenced to five years' penal servitude at the Central Criminal Court on a charge of having assaulted an old man named O'Toole at Lipstown, County Kildare, and stolen money from him.—(Page 8.)

Trade for sheep of good quality was brisk and good prices were obtained at the annual show and sale at Prussia street, Dublin, yesterday, under the auspices of the Irish Pedigree Sheep-Breeders' Association.—(Page 9.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

At Forres yesterday Mr. Ramsay Macdonald referred to the reduction of armaments. He pointed out that in this matter Great Britain had made a beginning. She, however, could not act alone. If reduction was to be effective, it must be mutual.—(Page 7.)

The Prince of Wales yesterday took part in a tug-of-war aboard the Cunard liner Berengaria. New York is much excited at the Prince's visit, and society people are hurrying from all the fashionable resorts to Long Island.—(Page 7.)

ABROAD.

General Sir Charles Fergusson, Bart., will succeed Viscount Jellicoe as Governor-General of New Zealand.—(Page 7.)

The sitting of the Reichstag was suspended yesterday as the result of a free fight on the floor of the House.—(Page 7.)

It is stated that the German President will sign the London Agreement next Saturday.—(Page 7.)

Business interests in China are making efforts to avoid the threatened inter-provincial war, but a highly dangerous situation is developing.—(Page 7)

Recent photographs of Mars taken by Professor Schaerer at Jungfrau Observatory show large vague flashes of lightning which are believed to be due to electrical disturbances on a vast scale.—(Page 7.)

Two White Star liners, the Arabic and the Homeric, were caught in a hurricane in the Atlantic. Twenty-four passengers were injured on the former.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING.

At Limerick Junction yesterday St. Eminence won the Sologhead Plate, Canzonet the Flying Plate, Credo the Ballykisteen Plate, Ardaulin the Stewards' Plate, Golden Cherry the Dublin Plate, and Ben Cruchan the Railway Plate.—(Page 10.)

At York Marvex won the Ebor Handicap, Norseman being second and Ceinturon third.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stocks were steady. Mines and Teas were active, and Guinness Stock rose 15 points to 485.—(Page 11.)

Money was again in demand, and recourse was had to the Bank. Loans ranged up to 4 per cent. Foreign exchanges improved slightly.—(Page 11.)

Guinness Shares were again the feature on Dublin Stock Market, with a further rise of 13-16 to 48 5-16. The price touched 48½.—(Page 11.)

Ireland at Geneva.

Last night the Free State delegation to the League of Nations left Dublin for Geneva. The fifth assembly of the League will open on next Monday, and the Free State representatives will take their place among delegates from fifty-one other nations of the world. This meeting of the League is likely to be the most important, and at the same time the most critical, in its short history. The agenda contains an array of subjects which must be considered, but the twin problems of security and disarmament will overshadow everything else. A year ago the assembly discussed the Draft Treaty of Mutual Assistance, which was promoted chiefly by the French group as a sort of military supplement to the Washington naval agreement. In the meanwhile, the terms of this draft treaty have been weighed in the balance, and, so far, at any rate, as Britain is concerned, they have been found wanting. The question of European disarmament is extremely complicated and bristles with difficulties at every turn. France and Britain are its principal protagonists, and, unfortunately, they have almost diametrically opposite points of view. The French attitude is very simple. It is based on the assertion that disarmament is impossible without security. In other words, the French say that they will be quite ready to listen to any reasonable proposals for the reduction of military and aerial power so soon as they are in a position which will be stronger than that of all their potential enemies combined. Naturally enough, other nations take a similar view. We have no doubt, for instance, that the Germans would agree heartily with the French thesis; but their idea of security would be utterly incompatible with that of France.

Britain's conception is based on moral authority. The French have been building up a great military machine in Europe ever since the Armistice, with the result that, apart altogether from the "Red" army, which is a law unto itself, there are more armed men on the Continent to-day than there were even in the hey-day of Hohenzollern arrogance. The Poles have a huge army which they cannot afford. The Czecho-Slovaks are armed to the teeth. Rumania has not ceased to increase her military power, and the Jugo-Slavs have an army which compares favourably with that of almost any other country in Europe. Virtually all these countries have been able to increase their armaments as a result of loans from France, which has kept in the closest touch with them through the medium of the "Little Entente." Italy, Germany and Russia are outside the orbit of this extremely powerful group, while, of course, Austria, Hungary, and, to a less extent, Bulgaria, have ceased to count from the military point of view. For the moment they are quiescent, but who can doubt that in the course of time the French hegemony will be challenged? Sooner or later another war will be certain unless real disarmament is undertaken, and in that event European civilisation will vanish. For the first time in the life of the League both the British and the French Premiers will be present at Geneva, and it is to be hoped sincerely that they will round off their good work at the London Conference by at least the outline of an agreement in regard to disarmament. No comprehensive scheme will be possible in Europe while Germany and Russia stand aloof from the League, but an understanding between, say, France, Britain and Italy would pave the way for a bigger step at a later date.

The duty of the Free State delegation is clear. No country in Europe needs peace more urgently than this little island of ours, and the Irish people may be trusted to support any movement which has the limitation of armaments as its aim. Our delegates have gone to Geneva with a great responsibility. They will be required for the first time to interpret the views of the Irish nation on a problem of vast importance to humanity, and it is even possible that their vote will be decisive. As between disarmament and a continuation of the old system of military competition, with all its disastrous results, there can be only one choice. The League of Nations now has an opportunity of giving a completely new orientation to European politics; for even partial disarmament would deal a death blow to the military habit throughout the Continent. This habit has been the curse of mankind for centuries, and when President Wilson launched his great campaign against it towards the end of the war the whole civilised world rejoiced. The mere fact that the League of Nations should be about to discuss disarmament is a complete vindication of President Wilson's policy; and, although the United States still refuses to have anything to do with the League, the presence at Geneva of Messrs. Macdonald and Herriot proves that its authority is extending, and that its possibilities for good have captured the imagination of peace-loving men and women throughout Europe. Much remains to be done before the League will be able to order the affairs of the globe. Old jealousies, old prejudices and old animosities must die out before Woodrow Wilson's noble ideal can be brought to complete fruition; but the minds of men are moving in the right direction, and the Irish people should be proud of the fact that their representatives have been given the chance to play a part in the creation of a new spirit at Geneva.

The Moroccan Campaign.

Recent rumours of a Spanish evacuation of Morocco are disproved by the latest news from the battle front. King Alfonso has returned from a visit to his troops in the Western zone. His visit was kept a profound secret, and the announcement by the Marquis de Estella, President of the Directory, that he is expected in Madrid, is the first public intimation that he has been at the front. It is fair to assume that the visit was a prelude to an extensive Spanish move. Since the Riffs launched their attack on the outposts on the Wad Lau line in June reinforcements amounting to about 35,000 troops have reached the scene of action from Spain. These reinforcements bring the strength of the army in the Western zone to some 90,000, including native troops. An offensive has been begun, and, with the numerical and material superiority at their demand, the Spanish generals should be fairly certain of success. According to official reports, results up to the present have been satisfactory; but it is too early to form definite conclusions. The next few days should reveal important developments. The move is in the nature of a decisive counter-attack against the recent offensive of the Riffs. Less than a week ago the Spanish line was in grave peril, when its right flank was assailed violently. Although unbroken, the Spanish position was bent, and in some places readjustments of the line were found necessary. Casualties have been heavy on both sides, but the Spanish army now holds an advantage, since it is able to repair its wastage more easily than the enemy. Now that so large a force is available for an offensive, the chief difficulty which faces the Spaniards is that of terrain. The employment of a large force will prove a severe test in the broken and difficult country over which operations must take place. The tactical and administrative skill of the higher command and the discipline and efficiency of all ranks will be put to a severe test. A year ago, when corruption was rife in the Spanish Army, the success of the operation would have been improbable. Now the Directory has improved matters to a large extent, and there is a very fair prospect of victory. The Moroccan campaign may be expected to react on the internal situation in Spain. When the Directory assumed power there was a general belief that an improvement would be effected in the conduct of the war in Morocco. Contrary to expectations, it has been in this sphere that the new centralised Government has been least successful. In employing so large an army in a resolute offensive it is making a great attempt to turn defeat into victory. If the attempt fails, its opponents will not be slow to point the finger of scorn, and probably the Government will fall and its endeavour to regenerate and modernise Spain will be ended.

"Wonders in the Deep."

In a voyage across the Atlantic occupying less than five days from land to land, and maintaining an average speed of 26.25 knots, the Mauretania has established several world "records." In one day she ran 626 miles. This wonderful passage across the ocean was made by a vessel like a floating town, and throughout the journey the travellers had their daily papers with the latest news. Many years ago a famous wit, being asked by American interviewers for his impressions, answered that he had been greatly disappointed in the Atlantic. That monstrous world of water might well seem less impressive to the traveller who can cross it in the Mauretania than to folk of former generations, to whom what is now a five-day trip was a great and formidable undertaking. By the trackless road that the Mauretania travelled with a scornful speed great men have journeyed in peril and prayer. There went the enraptured Irish voyagers of old, who put forth in flimsy craft, without sail or oar, "for the love of God trusting to His winds"; and there went the stout seamen of Elizabeth's heroic age, battling through the storms. Did any of the passengers on the rushing liner give a thought to that famous trans-Atlantic voyage, on which the Golden Hind and Sir Humphrey Gilbert's Squirrel set sail 350 years ago?—"Monday, the ninth of September, in the afternoon, the frigate was near cast away, oppressed by waves, yet at that time recovered: and giving forth signs of joy, the General, sitting abaft with a book in his hand, cried out unto us in the Hind (so oft as we did approach within hearing): We are as near to heaven by sea as by land . . . The same Monday night, about twelve of the clock, or not long after, the frigate being ahead of us in the Golden Hind, suddenly her lights were out. Whereof, as it were in a moment, we lost the sight, and withal our watch cried the General was cast away, which was too true." Those that go down to the sea in ships to-day run no such perils, and, perhaps, enjoy no such consolations as those who truly saw wonders in the deep.

The Old Horse Market.

What is known as the "old horse market" is an institution that is no credit to Dublin and could not exist in any other city. On every Thursday night old horses and donkeys are brought to Smithfield, chiefly by gipsies and tinkers, and there sold for small sums to poor folk, who, often enough, find a few days later that they have made bad bargains with their two or three pounds. The wretched creatures are bought in the country by tinkers for the proverbial song, fed and cared for a few days, and then sold at the market to humble people who are trying in these days of dire unemployment to scrape a living by hawking vegetables or coal. The beasts—sometimes with bones coming through the skin—earn the few pounds spent on their purchase in suffering and misery, and then perish; or, as often happens, their poor purchasers find that they have been sold creatures that collapse before yielding any return. This wretched trade is not illegal unless the animals sold are afflicted by infectious mange, and the cruelty involved can be checked only when the overworked and exhausted creatures are observed to be suffering in their new employment. The poor purchasers are victims in the matter; for not only are they liable to make very bad bargains at the hands of skilful gipsy dealers, but they may involve themselves in prosecutions when working their purchases. These evils would be prevented, or at least greatly minimised, if sellers of horses sold only from their own houses or in recognised sales yards; for in such a case purchasers finding themselves possessed of "faked" and worthless animals can get redress in the courts, while gipsy salesmen at the informal "old horse market" cannot be traced. There are frequent complaints about this abuse; but the only remedy rests with the municipal authorities or the police.

OBITUARY.

REV. GEORGE F. COURTENAY, M.A.

We regret to announce the death of the Rev. George Frederick Courtenay, M.A., formerly of 122 Pembroke road, Dublin, who had reached his 90th year.

Mr. Courtenay was one of the oldest clergymen of the Church of Ireland. He took his B.A. degree in Trinity College and the Divinity Testimonium in 1860, and received Deacon's Orders from the Bishop of Down in 1862. He was curate of Kilbroney, Co. Down, and subsequently of Aghaderg, for the next four years, when he was transferred to St. James's Parish, Dublin. Having served in Cloughjordan in 1867, he became rector of Quin, Killaloe, and was rector of Roscommon from 1878 to 1882. He was Vicar of Broomfield, Somersetshire, and of other English parishes, but in 1898 he returned to the Church of Ireland, and for four years was rector of Croghan, Co. Roscommon. In 1902 Mr. Courtenay retired from the active duty of the Ministry, but for a time he did occasional duty on Sundays in the Dublin Diocese. This he was obliged to give up, as he became almost completely deaf. Mr. Courtenay had been a member of the University Club for half a century. Notwithstanding his great age, he was able to move about until quite recently.

SOUTH-WEST AFRICA.

NATURALISATION OF ALIENS.

CAPE TOWN, Wednesday.

The South-West Africa Naturalisation of Aliens Bill has passed the Committee and Report stages in the House of Assembly, and the third reading will be taken to-morrow.

General Hertzog moved an amendment, the main effect of which is that every adult European subject of a late enemy Power domiciled in the territory on January 1, 1924, shall, on the expiry of six months after the commencement of the Act, be deemed to have become a British subject, naturalised under the Act of 1910, unless within six months he or she signs a declaration that he or she is not desirous of becoming so naturalised.

General Smuts said that he had gone most carefully into the legal position when the bill was being drafted. The position was that the people of South-West Africa now became Union citizens. So far as the Union was concerned, there was no dual citizenship; it was only when they went back to Germany that their original citizenship was revived. He moved an amendment for the insertion of the words: "Or at any time before the commencement of this Act," in order to meet the case of persons returning to the South-West territory between January 1 and the coming of the Act into force.

General Hertzog accepted the amendment, and moved a further amendment, to the effect that no person by whom the declaration was signed under Clause 2 should be deemed to have surrendered any right or privilege enjoyed by him as an alien.

The amendments were adopted.—(Reuter.)

LONDON LETTER.

DISARMAMENT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The principal subjects on the agenda for the Council of the League of Nations, which meets at Geneva on Friday, and will be followed by the General Assembly on Monday, are the future ownership of the Mosul, the position of Germany in relationship to the League, and the schemes to replace the Draft Treaty of Mutual Guarantees. Both at the Council and the Assembly much time will be devoted to the latter subject. Mr. Ramsay Macdonald will state the British objections to the idea of a mutual guarantee of protection and assistance in war, while M. Herriot, while supporting the draft treaty, will acknowledge that the objections of other Powers render it necessary to seek for another plan. It is probable that he will express the opinion that any disarmament scheme in the future should cover all forms of war material, including aeroplanes and submarines, which were both omitted from the scope of the Washington Conference.

Singapore.

The equipment of Singapore as a naval base is one of the first questions which will come before the House of Lords when Parliament reassembles. It will be raised again in the Commons, too, if opportunity permits, but the already overcrowded programme which faces that Chamber makes the chance precarious. The Earl of Selborne, one time First Lord of the Admiralty, is to bring the subject before the Lords. Late one night just before the recess the Government made the important announcement that, if the pact of mutual assistance does not mature, they will have to reconsider their position as regards Singapore. The statement hardly received the attention that it deserved. M. Herriot's declaration that safety must be always a first consideration, and the French view that armaments can only be further reduced in return for equivalent guarantees of external support, including the certainty of corresponding swiftness of application in case of emergency, would seem to involve alliances which some nations may not be disposed to entertain.

The Dawes Report.

There can be no doubt as to the probable effect which the carrying out of the Dawes recommendations and the economic reconstruction of Germany will have eventually on British industries, especially on the great coal, iron and steel trades. Our coal markets abroad are disappearing, as is seen by the enormous reductions in exports, while engineering has received rude shocks lately from foreign tenders which that industry has met in the ordinary course of business competition. Other trades and manufacturers are faced with similar menaces. So much so is that recognised by the Government that, immediately following his return from the Geneva meeting, the Prime Minister intends to call an industrial conference in London to go searchingly into all trade matters. The three main points that will engage the attention of that body are how best to lower the costs of production, to increase production, and to open up new markets. It is not intended that the inquiry shall proceed on the leisurely lines of a Royal Commission, but that it shall be as expeditious as is consistent with a thorough and critical examination from all aspects of the big subject which this body will have in hand.

A Petrol War.

Commercial owners, motorists and the public generally are watching developments in the petrol war with keen interest. The big combines are being vigorously attacked in the market by a powerful non-combine to bring down the price of fuel. The present price charged is 1s. 11d. per gallon, and the non-combine maintain that it can be sold in London at a sufficient profit for sixpence less. Whether they will be able to organise a service wide enough to make supplies at that price remunerative is dependent on the capital at their command. This is put at £5,000,000. Unless the scheme embraces virtually the whole country, as distinct from the treatment of selected areas, it is not likely to force down the rates per gallon now charged by the monopolies which largely control the whole of our supply. If the new venture is too restricted in its operations, it can be undercut and beaten out of the market, after which prices can be restored gradually to their present level. If, on the other hand, it proves a formidable opponent to existing powerful interests, there may be a fusion financially satisfactory to both, but leaving the consumer in the lurch.

Lossiemouth Golf Club.

The Lossiemouth golfers are in a quandary. During the war they expelled Mr. Ramsay Macdonald from their midst on account of his political leanings. Recently, but only by a majority, the club declined to remove the ban. It now appears that a certain wealthy member, an ardent admirer of the Prime Minister, has called in his loan of £3,000 which was required to keep things going. A pretty row seems to be in progress as to the course that shall be taken. Those who want Mr. Macdonald back will not assist in paying off the loan, and those who favour his continued exclusion threaten to resign if he sets foot again in the clubhouse. The vendetta is carried so far that Mr. Macdonald is not permitted the visitor's ordinary privilege of paying a daily fee for a round. His daughter and son are allowed to play on his favourite links if they so desire, but they prefer to go further afield for their game.

A By-Election.

London University is in the throes of a Parliamentary by-election, the vacancy having been caused by the death of Sir Sydney Russell-Wells just before the House rose. The fight is not being conducted on political lines, but on the question whether the poor student should be barred because he cannot afford to pay college and tutorial fees. It is the Government's intention to give effect to what is called the Haldane scheme, by which are known the recommendations of a Royal Commission, over which the Lord Chancellor presided some years ago. One of the recommendations is that the University Senate shall be drastically reduced in number, and that a large proportion of the members shall be appointed by the Government and by London's municipal bodies. Another is that "external degrees" granted to students who do not attend the colleges, but study as best they can, shall be abolished. On these points the battle rages. Many of the members of the Graduates' Association and almost the whole of the students are up in arms over these proposals.

Lady Astor's Portrait.

It was thought that the trouble about Lady Astor's picture was over when the donor ordered the painting's removal. The matter, however, is being re-opened, as the women members are receiving many complaints from their own sex at the disappearance of what is considered to be a fitting representation of a historic event in the annals of Parliament. In many parts of the country women take the view that the entry of the first woman to sit in the House of Commons should be commemorated. It is overlooked, however, that this aspect of the case has nothing whatever to do with the reasons which inspired objections to the presence of the picture—namely, that custom has not lent itself to the exhibition of sculptures and paintings of living members of the House.

BIG ATLANTIC HURRICANE.

LINERS DAMAGED.

WIRELESS CALL FOR AMBULANCES.

ARABIC'S ESCAPE.

24 PASSENGERS INJURED.

Two White Star liners were caught in a hurricane in the Atlantic while making for New York last Tuesday night. The Homeric, a 34,350 ton boat, managed to outweather the storm with the loss of a lifeboat, but the Arabic, which is only half the size and 14 years older—having been built in 1908, with a tonnage of 16,786—suffered more severely.

The seas smashed to atoms the great plate glass window of the dining saloon, broke the windows of the first-class cabins and flooded the companionways. Twenty-four persons—mostly women—were injured, and eight ambulances were sent to the pier to meet the Arabic when she docked.

The Arabic sailed from Hamburg on August 16 and called at Southampton and Cherbourg on the 18th of August. She arrived at Halifax on the 25th, and left for New York. The hurricane in which she was caught swept the whole Atlantic seaboard yesterday. Ships took shelter in New York Harbour, which was crowded with vessels. The seas were mountainous, and a tidal wave is believed to have caused many casualties. The Arabic appears to have caught the full force of the storm.

WINDOWS BROKEN BY THE SEAS.

COMPANION WAYS FLOODED.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Wednesday.

Several passengers on the liner Arabic, bound from Hamburg to New York, were injured last night when the ship ran into a hurricane.

A wireless message from the liner has requested eight ambulances to reach the ship at the pier when she docks about four o'clock this afternoon. The message added that the vessel was damaged by the hurricane, which struck the ship at nine o'clock last night.

Most of the liner's starboard lifeboats were missing. As the vessel came up to the pier this afternoon, the ship's officers reported that a hundred miles an hour wind came up suddenly, with the result that the first-class cabins were flooded. Every precaution was taken to ensure the safety of the passengers. There was no panic.

Later.

Twenty-four passengers on the Arabic were injured in the hurricane. Most of the injured were women, who were hit when the seas smashed the first-class cabin windows. There was considerable confusion, and the officers say that many were hurt in their attempts to escape the force of the seas that tossed the liner.

So great was the fury of the waves that the great plate glass windows of the dining-room were splintered into atoms, and the first-class cabin companionways were flooded.

The liner was in the grip of the gale for several hours when the captain decided to make a dash for quarantine.

The Homeric was caught in the same storm, but outweathered it, with the loss of one lifeboat.

MOSUL BOUNDARY.

TURKS READY TO ATTEND THE LEAGUE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

GENEVA, Wednesday.

The Turkish Government has now replied to the League's invitation to send a representative to the Council of the League in connection with the Irak frontier question.

The reply states that Turkey has not yet received official information regarding the ratification of the Lausanne Treaty, nor the proces verbal mentioned in Article 143 of the Treaty of Lausanne. Turkey, the reply states, will wait twenty days for the receipt of the proces verbal mentioned, and will then send a representative to take part in the deliberations, provided that the Treaty has been ratified.

A message from a French source in Constantinople (says Reuter) states that the Turkish Cabinet met in secret session to-day to discuss the question of Mosul. It is reported that the Government has decided to appoint the Minister of Agriculture and the legal adviser of the Minister of the Interior, Munir Bey, to present the Turkish case to the Council of the League.

FAMOUS WHALER WRECKED.

CUTTYHUNK, MASS., Wednesday.

The famous old whaler, Wanderer, has been wrecked on the rocks of the Middleground shoals. The crew of sixteen have been saved. The Wanderer was the last of the square-rigged seahunters which made New England famous in the oil industry before the discovery of petroleum. Manned with a crew of old-time whalers, it was proceeding this morning on what was to have been its last voyage to the South Atlantic for whales, when it struck the rocks on which it lies fast.—(Reuter.)

[The Wanderer, a wooden barque, 303 tons, built in 1878 at Mattapoisett, Mass., and owned by Antone T. Edwards, New Bedford, Mass., appears in Lloyd's Register.]

REDUCTION OF ARMAMENTS.

BRITAIN CANNOT ACT ALONE.

PRIME MINISTER'S STATEMENT.

The freedom of the Royal Burgh of Forres was conferred upon Sir Alexander Grant, Bart., yesterday. Sir Alexander Grant is managing director of Messrs. McVitie and Price. Among those who attended the ceremony were the Prime Minister and Miss Ishbel Macdonald. At the luncheon, which followed, Mr. Ramsay Macdonald responded to the toast of "Our Guests," and made a reference to disarmament, pointing out that in this matter Britain could not stand alone. Disarmament must be mutual.

In the afternoon Lady Grant formally opened and handed over to the town the Grant Park, the latest of Sir Alexander's gifts to his native place.

The Prime Minister, at the luncheon, paid a warm tribute to Sir Alexander Grant. He went on—There is one thing that you can always depend upon, and it is this—Whoever is responsible for the government of the country cannot be half a day in that office without feeling, first of all, perhaps, the burdens of the office; and, secondly, and in a far more important way, the tremendous inspiration of the office. The people at the head of this extraordinary federation of self-governing nations, to which are added Crown colonies and mandated territories, with problems arising from origin, race, historical past, climate and soil—problems flung far, from the rising sun to the setting sun, from the North Pole to the South Pole, very often feel that human wisdom and human strength cannot endure it. And yet there is something so fine and strengthening in it all that the work can be done. The work itself makes its success almost inevitable.

Captain Stuart, he continued, referred to that striking display of the British Fleet at Spithead the other day. It is quite true, as he said, that as we passed up that line of ships those of us who were there before thought it short and thought the course brief. Nevertheless, as he has truly observed, that shortening and brevity were a great achievement. Great Britain signed the compact of Washington, and Great Britain always shall, and must, carry out that compact and honour its signature.

I go to Geneva in a day or two. What is to happen I do not know. But this can be said, whatever happens, if we are to go on with this process of disarmament, we cannot do it alone. It must be mutual; it must be with common consent. The other nations must stand alongside us. In London the other day we managed—I don't want to exaggerate it—to make a bit of a beginning to better things. So long as I hold the position I now occupy all my energies will be directed to making that beginning successful in further efforts and further steps.

"RED FLAG" SUNG.

LIVELY SCENE AT BELFAST GUARDIANS.

An extraordinary meeting of the Belfast Poor Law Guardians was held yesterday afternoon on the requisition of Messrs. John Beattie and William J. M'Mullen, two Labour members, to take into consideration "the extraordinary behaviour of the Chairman and majority of the Guardians in, as alleged, refusing to allow duly elected Guardians the right to criticise the report of the Outdoor Relief Committee." The requisition also stated in reference to the Chairman—"We hereby demand his removal from office, and request the Board to proceed to appoint another Chairman."

Captain Gardner, who was voted to the chair, ruled that the entire business described in the requisition was ultra vires. The majority of the members supported this ruling, and with the staff in attendance retired from the boardroom.

The Labour members then held a meeting, and passed resolutions declaring the Chairmanship of the board vacant, and electing Mr. W. J. M'Mullen as successor to Mr. Andrews, subject to the usual sanction. Several cases of relief were dealt with, and the meeting ended with the singing of the "Red Flag."

ANOTHER DUBLIN STRIKE

BY IRISH WORKERS' UNION MEMBERS.

Since Monday last forty workers (most of them girls) in the employment of the North Kerry Manufacturing Company, Ardee road, Rathmines, Dublin, have been on strike because others of the company's employés refused to join the Irish Workers' Union. Delegates of this union appealed to the company to "use its influence," but in vain. A "lightning" strike took place on Monday morning, and on Tuesday a quantity of sugar consigned to the company was stopped at the works and turned back by a strike picket.

The strikers' sole excuse for leaving their work is that those employés with whom they are in dispute were not connected with any labour organisation until Mr. James Larkin founded the Irish Workers' Union, when they joined the Women Workers' Union. The company considers that the strikers have no case. It stated that, as its employés are at liberty to join any labour organisation, it has determined not to be coerced in any way by Mr. Larkin's union.

MR. JAMES LARKIN AND THE INCHICORE DISPUTE.

Mr. James Larkin, speaking at an open-air meeting at Inchicore, Dublin, last night, repeated the opinion expressed by him on Monday night that the dispute at the Inchicore Works could easily be solved by a shops' council. He said that if a satisfactory arrangement was made, he could guarantee that all the members of his union would fall into line and resume work immediately. He claimed that the Workers' Union of Ireland was composed of over ninety per cent. of the former members of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union.

The workers should aim first at unity among themselves, and put into practice the real principles of trade unionism. Let the common workers get at the real root of the whole dispute, and get some uninterested expert to sit in arbitration upon their claims. He (Mr. Larkin) could swear that his findings would be all for the men, who were the victims of some hidden political force. If the issue was forced, the dispute would drag on to its bitter conclusion, and industry from Dublin to Cork would be stagnant.

It was hateful to think that some of the men who acted as strike-breakers were professedly Republicans—men who had been released from jail, thanks to the sufferings and self-denial of the very men whose jobs they were now filling. Others were ex-soldiers of the National Army who had been misdirected about their position, and who, when they realised what they were doing, honourably "downed tools" rather than betray the men outside. It was a lie to say that any of these strike-breakers had been in any way intimidated. The intimidation came from the armed police who swarmed about the works. Let these men be withdrawn and all trouble, he guaranteed, would cease at once.

Mr. Larkin made a passing reference to his visit to Russia, the object of which, he said, was to open up independent trade with "the greatest undeveloped country in the world." He stated that a Commissionaire was on his way to Dublin to take stock of the situation and to prepare the way for this great trade project. In Russia Ireland would find a good market for her manufactured goods.

BELFAST AND THE R.N.V.R.

The movement to form a division of the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve in Northern Ireland is reaching the practical stage, and in furtherance of it the Marquis of Graham, Commander of the Clyde Division R.N.V.R., is coming to Belfast to address a meeting summoned by the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava (Vice-Admiral of Ulster), over which the Lord Mayor will preside, in the City Hall.

NEW YORK AND THE PRINCE.

TUG-OF-WAR ABOARD CUNARDER.

(By Wireless.)

CUNARD STEAMSHIP BERENGARIA, Wednesday.

The Prince of Wales did not indulge in the physical exercises this morning, as he was reserving his energies for the tug-of-war in the afternoon.

At eleven o'clock His Royal Highness, escorted by Captain Irvine and the ship's officers, who were dressed in their white uniforms, made a detailed inspection of the great liner. The Prince displayed a keen interest in all he saw.

The tug-of-war was won by the American team, despite the plucky efforts of the Prince and his British colleagues. The winning team afterwards defeated a team composed of Pressmen.

His Royal Highness watched with keen interest the other sports, and competed in a potato race, in which he would have been a certain winner but for the misplacing of a potato. The whole of the contests roused great hilarity, and were watched by a huge crowd of spectators. In the evening the Prince, in the company of a number of friends, attended a charity concert.—(Press Association special telegram.)

NEW YORK, Wednesday.

The newspapers here devote even more space to the doings of the Prince of Wales than to those of President Coolidge. They declare that he will meet with a hearty welcome in the United States.

The Prince's visit is causing a rush of society folk from all the fashionable resorts to Long Island. Never have so many house parties been arranged as are being planned in the neighbourhood of Syosset. The final preparations for the Prince's reception will be made to-morrow. Mrs. Mary Rogers Winthrop has been designated as hostess for the occasion.—(Reuter.)

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

IRISH DELEGATES LEAVE KINGSTOWN.

The members of the Irish Free State Delegation to the Assembly of the League of Nations left Kingstown last night en route for Geneva. Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, Minister for External Affairs, and Mr. P. McGilligan, Minister for Industry and Commerce, were accompanied by the Attorney-General, Professor J. M. O'Sullivan, T.D.; Mr. M. R. Heffernan, T.D.; and Mr. Joseph Walsh, general secretary to the Delegation. The Marquis MacSwiney of Mashanaglas, who is also of the Delegation, will cross to-day, and the party will be joined by the High Commissioner in London.

Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald told an Irish Times Reporter, before the boat sailed, that the Irish Delegation had no set programme, and that their business was wholly concerned with the agenda of the Assembly. The most important matter, he said, was the question of Disarmament.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

DEMAND FOR ADMISSION TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

GENEVA, Wednesday.

Senor Manuel Quezon, President of the Senate of the Philippines, and Senor Sergio Osmena, Speaker of the House of Representatives, are expected here within a few days to demand admission of the Philippine Islands into the League of Nations. Senors Quezon and Osmena intend to present their case both to the Council and the Assembly of the League, if possible. Both are determined advocates for the independence of the Philippines, and they will point out the certainty of eventual autonomy of the islands.

Their chief argument for admission to the League now consists in an analogy of the British Dominions. While the Philippines enjoy less independence than Australia and Canada they have much more autonomy than India, which President Quezon points out is nevertheless a member of the League. This argument recalls the action of the Philippine athletes in the recent Olympic Games, when they carried a flagstaff bearing the Philippine banner at the top and the Stars and Stripes at the bottom.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE.

GREAT SLAUGHTER OF SHEEP.

Foot-and-mouth disease is spreading in the neighbourhood of Lincoln.

Fresh outbreaks are reported at Harmston, where 900 sheep and 250 beasts have been slaughtered and burnt.

MOTOR 'BUS ON FIRE.

SIX PASSENGERS BURNT TO DEATH.

THE HAGUE, Wednesday.

A serious motor omnibus accident has occurred at Heine, a little village in the East of Holland. A party of peasants were returning home after celebrations in honour of the Queen's birthday, which, as it falls this year on a Sunday, August 31st, is being celebrated on the preceding week days. The motor omnibus was new. During the first stage of the journey a fire broke out near the engine. The design of the motor 'buses in Holland is different from that of the types used in London. There is an exit next to the driver, and an emergency door at the rear. The emergency door in this 'bus became jammed, with the result that all the passengers, who rushed to the exit, were caught in a trap. Six of them were burnt to death and seven were seriously injured. The remainder were saved through the presence of mind of one of the passengers, who broke a window, and pulled some of his fellow passengers through it.—(Times telegram.)

COVENT GARDEN STRIKE.

PICKETS LESS ACTIVE.

Picketing at Covent Garden yesterday was not nearly so intensive as it was during the earlier days of the strike, although the number of pickets on duty was 750.

The supplies of fruit and vegetables adequately meet the demand, and yesterday morning retailers could obtain practically anything they desired. Merchants say that there is no justification for retailers to increase prices.

It is understood that as a result of a visit by the Transport Workers' Union representatives to the Ministry of Labour the employers have received an invitation from Sir David Shackleton, Secretary to the Ministry, to meet him as soon as possible.

The National Council of Port Labour Employers yesterday addressed a letter to Mr. Bevin, Secretary of the Transport Workers' Union, stating that they regarded the instructions not to handle fruit or vegetables as a distinct breach of the national agreement, and calling upon the Transport and General Workers' Union to withdraw the instructions immediately.

CAMBERLEY MOTOR SMASH.

COLONEL AND TWO SONS INJURED.

As the result of a collision between a motor lorry and the motor car in which they were returning from a tennis tournament at Camberley yesterday, Colonel J. M. T. Hogg, late of the Indian Army, and his two sons were seriously injured.

The Colonel's car had just entered the main road from the side road when it was struck in the centre by the lorry, turned over and knocked into a ditch. Colonel Hogg's back was injured. His son, Nigel, sustained internal injuries, and his younger son had both his legs broken and other injuries. The car was wrecked.

FIGHT IN THE REICHSTAG.

DISGRACEFUL SCENE.

DETECTIVES CALLED IN BY PRESIDENT.

COMMUNISTS SUSPENDED.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

To-day, on the eve of perhaps the most fateful vote in German political history, a disgraceful scene occurred in the Reichstag. A Communist resolution demanding that excluded members be allowed to vote on Thursday and members under arrest released, had just been rejected when the Freedom Party put the same motion in a different form. It was just about to be accepted, when Dr. Brodauf, a Democrat judge, opposed. He was immediately attacked by the Communists, who stormed over the Socialist Benches.

When the disorder had subsided, Dr. Brodauf was assisted away by his friends. He has a badly hurt eye, and is now wearing a large bandage. The Standing Committee met to consider the question of the suspension of Communists.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

The Reichstag presented an extraordinary scene this evening. For the first time in its history detectives entered the House in order to compel recalcitrant deputies to leave the building. The President, Dr. Wallraff, opened the sitting at half-past five with the announcement that the three Communist deputies who were mainly responsible for the disturbance this morning were to be excluded from the sitting.

He then summonded them to leave the Chamber. As they took no notice of his injunction, the President suspended the sitting for five minutes, and announced the exclusion of the three deputies for twenty sittings. He then requested the public galleries to be cleared, as forcible measures, he said, would be taken to eject the deputies. The public and most of the deputies then left the House, with the exception of 45 Communists, who remained in their seats, laughing and chattering.

A body of about 25 detectives in plain clothes trooped into the Reichstag, and were greeted with ironical laughter by the Communists, who sang the "Internationale." Two of the Communist deputies, on being requested by the leader of the detectives to retire, did so, without making any resistance, being escorted from the Chamber by the police. The third deputy had left on his own accord earlier.

On the Reichstag reassembling, the President was greeted with shouts from the Communists, "Down with this police Parliament."

The second reading of the Dawes Bills was passed. The third and decisive reading will not now be taken until Friday, owing to the obstructionist tactics of the Communists and Extreme Nationalists.

THE VOTING.

The result of the voting in the Reichstag on the second reading of the Decree Law relating to the administration of the railways under the Dawes scheme was as follows—For 248, against 174.

The bill dealing with the issue bank was passed in the Reichstag by 249 votes to 171, with two abstentions. The bills dealing with private issue banks, the liquidation of the Rentenbank, and with the minting of new coinage, were also passed, the Communists and extreme Nationalists voting against. The bill dealing with the industrial obligations was adopted by 247 votes to 173, with one abstention. The bill ratifying the Pact of London was passed by 248 votes to 175, and the House also passed the bill dealing with staff conditions on the German railways. Thus all the bills dealing with the Dawes Report have now been passed by the Reichstag, with the exception of the Railways Bill, for the passage of which the necessary two-thirds majority was not obtained.

The above figures are for the second reading of the various measures. The third and final reading will take place next Friday.

DECREE READY.

PRESIDENT TO SIGN NEXT SATURDAY.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

Dr. Marx, the Chancellor, called on President Ebert this morning and reported on the political situation, which is extremely critical owing to the Nationalist opposition to the Dawes legislation. According to an official statement subsequently issued, the President informed the Chancellor that he is prepared to sign the London Agreement next Saturday, as empowered by the German Constitution. The President also told the Chancellor that he will dissolve the Reichstag in the event of the necessary majority for the Dawes legislation not being obtained by Friday's vote.

It is reported that the President actually signed the decree for dissolution this morning, and that Dr. Marx carries it in his pocket ready for use at the right moment.

I am informed that Dr. Sthamer, the German Ambassador in London, will receive instructions on Saturday to sign the London Agreement in the name of President Ebert. A dissolution is considered inevitable in political circles.

Forty-two Presidents of the Nationalist Party organisation in the country met this morning to consider the position and make clear the attitude of the constituencies to the Nationalist Reichstag members.

A long discussion ensued, but in the final vote only three votes were recorded in favour of acceptance of the Dawes legislation. The Nationalist members met this afternoon to consider their action as a result of this expression of opinion.

ARRESTED AT SEA.

RESULT OF WIRELESS MESSAGE.

On the arrival of the oil tanker, Inverkith, at Southampton yesterday, two Liverpool policemen went aboard and took a fireman into custody.

A warrant for his arrest, in connection with the death of his mother-in-law last month, had been notified by wireless, and the message had been picked up at sea, and the captain placed the fireman under detention.

The man is stated to have made no reply when the warrant was read over to him. He was taken to Liverpool.

The Hon. Marguerite de Fontaine Drever Joicey, daughter of Lord Joicey, the well-known North country coal owner, has left personal estate valued at £253,150. The death duties amount to £65,819. She leaves her colliery shares to her father, and after bequests to friends, the residue of her estate goes to her brothers, the Hon. James Arthur Joicey and the Hon. Hugh Edward Joicey.

LORD BEATTY IN RUMANIA.

BUCHAREST, Wednesday.

Earl Beatty arrived at Sinaia at eleven o'clock, and was received at the railway station by the Crown Prince, who only returned from abroad yesterday, and by representatives of the local authorities.

Lord Beatty is staying at the Royal Castle of Pelesh, where a banquet will be given this evening. The Admiral expressed his admiration for the scenery he saw on his journey. His visit is widely commented on by the newspapers, which all speak admiringly of England.—(Reuter.)

LORD JELLICOE'S SUCCESSOR.

SIR CHARLES FERGUSSON APPOINTED.

The King has been pleased to approve the appointment of General Sir Charles Fergusson, Bart., K.C.B., K.C.M.G., D.S.O., to be Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of the Dominion of New Zealand, in succession to Admiral of the Fleet Viscount Jellicoe, G.C.B., O.M., G.C.V.O., whose period of office soon will expire.

Lord Jellicoe, who was appointed Governor-General in 1920, has been anxious to retire for some time. He is extremely popular in New Zealand, and the task of finding a successor to him has caused the Labour Government considerable difficulty. Several names have been suggested from time to time by the Colonial Secretary, but until Sir Charles Fergusson's was put forward none of them met with the cordial approval of the Dominion Cabinet. Sir Charles is the son of a former Governor.

The post of Governor-General requires a person not merely of high standing but of considerable wealth. It carries a salary of £5,000 a year and an allowance of £2,500, but it is well known that the expenses of Lord Jellicoe and his predecessors have exceeded these amounts.

Sir Charles Fergusson is one of Britain's most distinguished soldiers. He was the only son of the sixth baronet and Edith, daughter of the late Marquis of Dalhousie. Educated at Eton and Sandhurst, he joined the Grenadier Guards in 1883, and saw service in many campaigns. In 1907 he served on the Commander-in-Chief's Staff in Ireland, and from 1909 until 1913 was Inspector of Infantry. Sir Charles commanded the Fifth Division during the early stages of the war, and afterwards commanded the Second and Seventeenth Army Corps. From 1918 until the end of 1919 he was Military Governor of occupied German territory.

This is the first civil appointment that Sir Charles Fergusson has held. His wife is a daughter of the seventh Earl of Glasgow.

FREEDOM OF BELFAST.

HONOUR FOR THE TOWN CLERK.

The General Purposes Committee of the Belfast City Council decided yesterday to recommend the Corporation to confer the Freedom of the City upon Sir Robert Meyer, Town Clerk.

On the 7th September, Sir Robert will have completed half a century in the service of the Corporation. He succeeded the late Sir Samuel Black as Town Clerk in 1909, and was knighted in February, 1921.

WANDERING JEW.

MYSTERY OF VISITS TO IRELAND.

A young Jew named Idel Weingarten, about whom there was some mystery, was sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in the Glasgow Sheriff Court yesterday, and was recommended for deportation, for contravention of the Aliens Order.

Apparently he had been wandering about the Continent and Great Britain and Ireland. In his first statement to the Glasgow police he said that he was a Dutch subject and had served in the Dutch Army. As the result of an anonymous letter, the prisoner was visited, and in his possession were found several photographs of prominent persons in the Irish Free State and the Irish Republican Party, including Mr. de Valera. Prior to this the prisoner had paid a visit to Germany.

It then came out that Weingarten was a native of Poland and had twice been refused a landing in Great Britain, once as a stowaway. Later he landed as a stowaway and went to Ireland, as he thought he would be safe there. He can speak eight languages.

NEW BELFAST ALDERMAN

MR. NIXON ELECTED.

Polling took place in Belfast yesterday for the Count Ward Aldermanship, vacated by the retirement of Sir Joseph Davison, and the result was declared last night as follows:—

Ex-District Inspector Nixon (U.)	3,761
J. Dorman (Labour)	1,868
Unionist majority	1,893

The successful candidate was carried shoulder high to his committee rooms, amidst scenes of great enthusiasm.

BRITAIN AND THE SUDAN.

ZAGHLULIST PRESS AND EGYPTIAN RIGHTS.

CAIRO, Wednesday.

As regards the recent British Press comments upon the situation in the Sudan, the Zaghlulist Press says that one looked for some amelioration of the position, everything having been done on the Egyptian side without abdicating the country's rights and dignity, to keep that sang froid and calm so necessary in difficult circumstances.

The Government organs generally express regret that the British side does not seem exactly to appreciate this wise attitude, and that certain British newspapers continue to deny Egyptian rights in the Sudan, with an impudence and a lack of sincerity justifying Egypt's apprehensions.

It is contended here that certain British circles appear desirous of maintaining between Egypt and Great Britain a state of tension and defiance equally injurious to both countries. Neither Zaghlul Pasha nor any other Egyptian statesman, it is maintained, could go to England and subscribe to an arrangement which would mean the pure and simple abandonment of the Sudan. It is pointed out that the present tone of the British Press implies an invitation to negotiations tantamount to an invitation to suicide. The whole Zaghlulist Press categorically denies that the Egyptian Premier has any intention of deserting his post in this hour of danger.—(Reuter.)

BOATING ACCIDENT.

TWO LIVES LOST.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, Wednesday.

An Englishman, Dr. Linscombe, and his sister-in-law, Miss Millman, lost their lives by drowning at Tregastel, off the Britanny coast, yesterday, when their sailing boat capsized. Miss Millman's sister and her two little children, who were of the party, were all thrown into the sea, but were rescued.

The accident is described as having been caused by the party leaning too heavily to one side of the boat while the boatman was hoisting the sail.

PRAYER AND THE BOUNDARY.

At a prayer meeting held at Belfast yesterday in connection with the boundary crisis, the Rev. Dr. Montgomery, ex-Moderator of the General Assembly, said that he did not think it was within the wisest statesmanship to settle the question apart from God. He hoped that some courageous statesman would sing out that they needed God in all their differences.

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

THE DAWES SCHEME.

MINERS' ATTITUDE.

It is doubtful whether the meeting between the Prime Minister and the Executive Committee of the Miners' Federation to discuss the effect of the operation of the Dawes scheme and reparation plans on the mining industry can be arranged for a date earlier than the middle of September, states The Times. There is no possibility of the miners' deputation being received before Mr. Ramsay Macdonald goes to Geneva.

The attitude of the Mining Association towards the Dawes report has yet to be disclosed. The Association as a body has not specifically considered the situation which may arise out of the London Agreement. Members during the month have been scattered owing to the holiday season, but it is possible that the matter may shortly be discussed informally. The general policy of the Association has been to avoid any intrusion into the political sphere, but from the economic point of view there can be little doubt that many individual mineowners are seriously disturbed by a possibility of unrestricted competition from the Ruhr in the coal industry.

THE NORDDEUTSCHER LLOYD.

AN 8 PER CENT. LOAN.

In its City Notes column The Times to-day states:—There is reason to believe that the credit of £1,000,000 for the Norddeutscher Lloyd, which, as announced yesterday, is being provided by a British insurance company, is to be retained mainly, at any rate, in this country. The intention is, it is understood, that the credit shall be employed in the purchase of coal, for making insurance payments, and generally for providing a working balance in sterling. Although the rate of interest is understood to be 8 per cent., the total return to the lender is believed to be rather larger.

It is reported that provision is made for the repayment of instalments annually, should the Norddeutscher Lloyd desire to repay the advance in this way, and it would seem likely that the company will wish to be in a position to do so. High financial opinion yesterday on the advance seemed to be that although it was not of a kind that would generally be considered suitable for a bank, it would have considerable attractions for an insurance company that could afford such a "lock up" of funds.

THE SUDAN.

TRIBES REPORTED QUIET.

The Times observes in a leading article:—There has been a marked improvement of the atmosphere in Cairo and of the situation at Khartum and the other temporarily disturbed points in the Sudan since the intentions of the British Government to maintain order in the country were bluntly and firmly announced to all whom they might concern. The mutinous Railway Battalion of Egyptian troops has been quietly sent across the frontier, and is being demobilised and dispersed by King Fuad's Minister of War. Egyptian officers have tried and sentenced some of the Atbara rioters, and the cadets who refused to obey their officers will be brought before a court-martial at Khartum. A seditious circular, it is true, has been circulated in the towns of the Sudan, bidding "the Sudanese nation" to be firm, and pointing out to them the example of Egypt, who, unarmed as she was, yet forced the British to grant her recognition. Private letters, however, from responsible persons in the Sudan have reached Alexandria, and state that the tribes everywhere are perfectly quiet in spite of the propaganda subsidised from Egypt, and that they have not been affected by the incidents at Khartum.

Two instructive communications which we publish to-day give very good reasons why this should be the attitude of the populations of the Sudan. Sir Ernest Wallis Budge, the eminent Egyptologist, traces the history of Egyptian relations with those peoples from the earliest times until Lord Kitchener crushed the Khalifa, and Mr. Edward Grove, a former official in the extreme South of the Sudan, repeats in more detail what those relations were in the last years of Egyptian rule, exposes the error of talking about the Sudan as one country or of the Sudanese as one people, and insists with force and earnestness upon the moral duty we have incurred towards "simple, brave, affectionate and childlike" tribes, whom it would be infamous to abandon.

DEATH OF SIR WILLIAM BAYLISS.

A GREAT PHYSIOLOGIST.

The Times announces the death of Sir William Maddock Bayliss, the famous physiologist and philosopher, at the age of 58. The world of science, says The Times, loses by his death probably the greatest contemporary physiologist and a researcher and philosopher of the widest intellectual range. In 1914 he brought out his work, "The Principles of General Physiology," one of the most remarkable scientific books that has ever been written. William Maddock Bayliss was born at Wolverhampton in 1866. He entered at University College in 1881, and after failing in anatomy at the second M.B. examination determined to abandon the idea of a medical qualification and to devote himself to physiology. After taking his degree at Oxford he returned to London and spent the remainder of his life in scientific research work. In 1919 he received the highest honour which is in the power of the Royal Society to bestow—i.e., the Copley Medal. He was knighted in 1922.

WEMBLEY NOT TO RE-OPEN.

The Daily Express states that the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley will undoubtedly come to an end on October 31, and will not re-open next year, and in a leading article remarks that it is natural that this announcement should be followed by a crop of complaints—some real, many imaginary. Taking the Exhibition as a whole, few will deny that it has been an uncompromising success. Despite initial miscalculations, backward contracts, and the unkindest strokes of fate as regards weather, Wembley has won through. It has stimulated a vivid interest in the Empire, and opened up wonderful new vistas of Imperial endeavour. This in itself is a mighty achievement, of which the organisers may well be proud.

CITY DEEP'S CLAIMS.

The Johannesburg Correspondent of the Financial Times telegraphs:—The City Deep has purchased from the Rand Mines Company a block of 200 mining claims lying south of the Nourse Mines area, and will thus considerably lengthen its life. The purchase consideration is being satisfied by the transfer of a substantial parcel of ex-enemy City Deep Shares, valued on the basis of the current quotation. It has for a long time past been assumed that the Nourse Company had a kind of pre-emptive right to these Southern claims. The City Deep will simply extend its drives into the new claims, instead of having, as would have been the case with the Nourse Mines, to extend shafts and start new levels at ten times the expense. The Rand Mines Company acquires shares in the premier mine of the Central Rand, readily convertible into cash, instead of in a company the position of which has been rendered precarious by the decline in the gold premium, and the deterioration of its development values. The Nourse requires all liquid resources for the development of its existing area, thus rendering a cash deal impracticable.

"NEGOTIATIONS FAILED."

HITCH IN RAILWAY SCHEME.

POSITION OF D. AND S.E. COMPANY.

In a circular, bearing yesterday's date, the proprietors and debenture stockholders of the Dublin and South-Eastern Railway Company, including the City of Dublin Junction Railways, and the New Ross and Waterford Extension Railways, are informed that the special general meeting, which was announced to be held to-morrow, "for the purpose of considering, and if so determined, of approving schemes of amalgamation, has been cancelled." The circular adds:—

"Your directors were in negotiation with the directors of the other Amalgamating Companies, and on 12th instant a scheme was agreed contingent upon certain other important negotiations being successful. In the hope that these negotiations would end satisfactorily, and in order to conform with the Statutory requirements relating to the announcements of a special general meeting, the notices of the meeting were inserted in the newspapers in advance of a final agreement of the Scheme; but, unfortunately, the negotiations have failed.

"Your directors desire to place before you a statement of the present position of the company in relation to amalgamation under the provisions of the Railways Act, 1924, and for this purpose a meeting will be held in the Board Room, at Westland Row, on Friday next, 29th instant, at 11 o'clock, a.m.

"Owing to the short time available, it will be impossible to present to those attending the meeting the Chairman's statement in printed form, but it is the intention of the directors to have the statement printed and forwarded to each proprietor and Debenture stockholder of the company at an early date."

The directors of the Dublin and South-Eastern Company are:—Senator Sir Thomas Henry Grattan Esmonde, Bart., (Chairman); the Right Hon. Henry Gwen Burgess (Deputy Chairman); Mr. Frederick W. Pim; Mr. Richard W. Booth; Mr. Jeremiah McVeagh, B.L.; Mr. James C. R. Lardner, K.C., and Mr. John Bolger. Two weeks ago meetings were held confirming a scheme of amalgamation by the Great Southern and Western Railway Company, the Midland Great Western Railway Company, and the Cork, Bandon and South Coast Railway Company.

Section V., Sub-Section one, of the Railways Act, 1924, says:—"Amalgamating Companies may, on or before August 31st, 1924, submit to the Minister a scheme or schemes framed in accordance with the provisions of this Act for the absorption of the Amalgamated Company of all, or any, of the absorbed companies on terms agreed to by the absorbed companies to which the scheme or schemes may relate."

Sub-Section II. of the same Section states:—"The Minister shall refer to the railway tribunal any scheme so submitted to him, and the tribunal, unless it appears to them that the scheme does not conform with the requirements of this Act, or that the provisions of this Act relating to the procedure preliminary to the submission of an agreed scheme have not been complied with, shall confirm the scheme."

Sub-Section III. provides that:—"If the Amalgamating Companies fail on or before the said date to submit an agreed scheme or schemes framed in accordance with the provisions of this Act for the absorption of all the absorbed companies, a scheme for the absorption of any such company, with respect to which an agreed absorption scheme framed in accordance with the provision of this Act has not been made, shall be prepared and settled in accordance with this Act by the railway tribunal."

PRISON POPULATION.

ANALYSIS BY MR. KEVIN O'HIGGINS.

Mr. Kevin O'Higgins, Minister for Justice, in a statement issued last night dealing with Mr. de Valera's speech on 26th instant, says:

Mr. de Valera is reported as stating at a meeting held in Dublin on the 26th instant:—"These men now held as prisoners are not criminals, but judged by any standard they are patriots." As Mr. de Valera and all other speakers refrain from specifying the particular persons whose releases they advocated, it is not possible to make the detailed examination of the case which one would wish.

The prison population within the area of jurisdiction of Saorstat Eireann at present stands at 1,014 (the corresponding figure for the year 1912 was 1,614). Of these 1,014 prisoners 720 are convicted, 246 are on remand awaiting trial, and 48 are detained under the special powers conferred under the Public Safety (Powers of Arrest and Detention) Act, 1924.

An examination of these three categories in search of the men who "are not criminals, but judged by any standard are patriots," may be of interest.

(1) Convicted Prisoners.

Murder	19
Manslaughter	10
Robbery and Arson and Attempted Armed Robbery	154
Burglary and Larceny	205
Sexual Crimes	29
Illegal Possession of Arms	6
Other lesser crimes	297
Total	720

(2) Prisoners on Remand, Charged with:

Murder	36
Manslaughter	Nil.
Robbery, Arson, and Attempted Armed Robbery	47
Burglary and Larceny	78
Sexual Crimes	12
Illegal Possession of Arms	Nil.
Other lesser crimes	73
Total	246

(3) Persons Detained under Public Safety Act on Reasonable Suspicion of Specific Offences.

Unlawful Interference with Possession of Land	24
Unlawful Possession of Arms	9
Robbery Under Arms and Arson	15
Total	48

These last-named persons had a right of appeal to the "Appeal Council," provided for in Section 5 of the Act.

The foregoing analysis scarcely requires comment. The contention seems to be that crime becomes sanctified and ennobled if the criminal sees fit to proclaim himself a political adherent of Mr. de Valera. Such a contention cannot be accepted as a principle in the administration of justice in this State.

As to Mr. de Valera's references to the propriety of "the people rather than a Junta being masters here," if these are now his real sentiments and not mere mob-oratory, he is to be congratulated on the progress of his education in civics since 1922.

WAR CLOUDS IN CHINA.

BUSINESS INTERESTS' PEACE EFFORT.

PEKIN, Wednesday.

Marshal Lu Yung-hsiang, the Tuchun of Chekiang, has seized the Shanghai-Nanking Railway Station at Shanghai. The Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan, the Tuchun of Kiangsu, controls the line to within forty miles of Shanghai. Thus, the railway communication from Shanghai to Pekin is uncertain. The Marshal Lu Yung-hsiang has also seized the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway. There has been no fighting yet, and there is still a chance that General Wu Pei-fu, without/whose permission and funds, it is improbable that Chi Hsieh-yuan will make war, may decide against hostilities at present, in which case they may be postponed to a more convenient occasion.

Much depends also upon the strong efforts in favour of peace which are being made by a deputation representing the Chinese banks, business men and other interests, which is interviewing Marshals Lu Yung-hsiang and Chi Hsi-yuan. British and American warships from Wei-Hai-Wei and from Chefoo, respectively, are expected at Shanghai to-morrow.—(Reuter.)

PEKIN EXCHANGE' CLOSED.

DANGEROUS SITUATION DEVELOPING.

PEKIN, Wednesday.

After being open for a few days for such dealings, the Stock Exchange was closed on Monday for the usual settlement. Nine firms are apparently bankrupt, being deficient to the extent of several million dollars. Domestic Bonds have gone up and down during the past week, but closed yesterday weaker than ever owing to the news from the South.

The Stock Exchange was closed to-day as a precaution against a financial panic resulting from the strained relations between the Kiangsu and Chekiang provinces, and the fact that railway traffic is suspended between Shanghai and Nanking indicates the probability that serious preparations are afoot.

A struggle between the provinces mentioned has been long threatened, owing to the personal rivalry between their respective rulers, and because Chekiang, as an independent province under an Anfu (military governor) is a thorn in the side of the Chihli party, which is dominant in the north. Reports indicate that the Kiangsu, Ashwei, Kiangsi, and Fukien armies are threatening Chekiang in the Chihli interests, and as their combined forces, with Wu Pei-fu presumably in reserve in the rear, are immensely superior to the Chekiang army, the issue, if joined, should not remain in doubt.

An important point is whether the conflict will remain local, or spread elsewhere. It is generally believed by the Chinese that Chang Tso-lin, the Mukden war lord, will at least make a demonstration in favour of his Chekiang ally, if he does not actually take the field by his side. In the latter case, the conflict would assume serious proportions, involving all the Yangtze and Northern provinces, but the fact that the railway south of the Great Wall is held in force by the Chihli party, and that a great part of the Chihli province is literally water-logged, makes it difficult to believe that the Mukden Tuchun will undertake the campaign in the present conditions.—(The Times Correspondent.)

BROKEN ROMANCE.

BRITISH GIRL AND INDIAN.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
CAPE TOWN, Wednesday.

When the mail boat, Saxon, arrived at Capetown last Monday one of the passengers, Miss Jean Forgan, a good-looking girl of 21 years of age, formerly employed in the Edinburgh Post Office, was met on board by Dr. Patel Hal Hublar Masters, an Indian. A male passenger to whom Miss Forgan had confided her plans told the Indian that she had changed her mind, and had decided not to marry him, as she had promised.

Dr. Masters, however, saw Miss Forgan privately, and induced her to accompany him to a magistrate's officer for the marriage ceremony. This official delayed the proceedings, requesting the girl to think seriously of what she proposed doing. She left in tears, and went wit hMasters to his luxurious mansion, where an Oriental reception had been arranged.

On the voyage out Miss Forgan had travelled with a Mrs. Higgins, who, on hearing of what had happened, went to the mansion, and, with several other of the Saxon's passengers, burst into the reception room and rushed the girl away from the house in a taxicab. Miss Forgan was taken to a private residence and well guarded, and last night left Cape Town for Johannesburg.

"I won't marry her now," Dr. Masters told me to-day, "but I am willing to pay her passage to England."

Dr. Masters states that he warned the girl of the prejudices that she must expect to encounter in Cape Town, but she was determined to come, so he spent £2,000 in making a suitable home.

The Chief Magistrate of Cape Town asks me to warn English girls against mixed marriages. "The worst tragedies I have ever known have been caused through white girls marrying Indians or negroes," he said. "In the Transvaal, Natal and the Free State, such marriages are forbidden, and cohabitation between white and black is a penal offence. White girls which make this terrible mistake become social pariahs."

CANADIAN TRADE RETURNS

A BIG INCREASE.

OTTAWA, Wednesday.

The total trade of Canada for the twelve months ending with July amounted in value to $1,916,000,000, being an increase of forty-one millions as compared with last year. The value of the exports was $1,066,000,000, or an increase of $71,000,000. The imports amounted to $850,000,000, a decrease of thirty millions as compared with last year. The balance of trade in Canada's favour is $216,000,000. The total trade with the Empire amounted in value to $654,000,000, an increase of five million dollars.

As regards the trade with the United Kingdom, the imports amounted to $150,000,000, being a decrease of two million dollars as compared with last year; and the exports amounted to $384,000,000, being a decrease of two million dollars. The imports from the United States amounted in value to $565,000,000, being a decrease of $29,000,000, as compared with last year. The exports amounted to $422,000,000, being an increase of twenty million dollars.—(Reuter.)

103 YEARS OF AGE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
LONDON, Wednesday.

Miss Katherine Jane Jellicoe, aunt of Lord Jellicoe, who will celebrate her 103rd birthday on September 8, is a very interesting old lady. She spends her time in the cheerful second floor room of her house in Portland place, Southampton, where she has lived for 35 years. She sees very few visitors now. One of her greatest interests is the writing of letters.

ATTEMPT TO SWIM THE CHANNEL.

Beaten by the cold, Perks, the Birmingham swimmer, returned to Dover about 5.30 o'clock yesterday morning, having had to give up his attempt to swim the Channel after fourteen and a half hours. He left the water at 3 o'clock, when four miles off Calais. Although the conditions were good, the cold was too much for him.

NAVY TO ATTACK "RUM RUNNERS."

20 DESTROYERS FOR THE BATTLE LINE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
PHILADELPHIA.

Unusual activity and rigid censorship of all news has spread over a section of the League Island Navy Yard, as the United States Coast Guard has settled down to preparation for its campaign to sweep the rum fleet from the Atlantic some time in September.

More than 1,000 men, secretly mobilised, busy themselves all day in grooming the destroyers, mine sweepers and speedy coastal motor boats for the hour when they will put out to sea to establish an armed barrier along the coast against the illegal traffic in liquor, narcotics and aliens. Another 1,000 men are expected to join the force later.

Mechanics are putting finishing touches that will enable them to endure the rigours of sea patrol in all kinds of weather. Gun crews are drilling at the quick firers aboard the destroyers. Below decks engineer recruits are getting acquainted with their engines and boilers.

Twenty destroyers of world-war type, some with the star on their smoke-stacks that marks them as having sunk a German submarine, comprise the battle line of the Coast Guard fleet. The recondary squadron is composed of two mine sweepers, while scout work and near shore patrol duties will fall to the motor craft, of which 300 are expected to be utilised. Twenty-four bases for the fleet are said to be planned along the coast, with three recruiting stations later.

All the destroyers are capable of making from twenty-five to thirty knots, and mount main batteries of three or four inch quick-firing guns, with one-pounders and machine guns as auxiliaries. To lighten the ships for increased speed, the torpedo tubes and Y guns for hurling depth charges have been removed.

The censorship has been established to prevent all plans of the fleet becoming known to spies of the smuggling interests. No civilians are permitted near the section of the yard where the fleet is arming, and Commander H. G. Hamlet, in charge, announces that all news concerning the fleet's activities will be withheld until "something is accomplished."

The "enemy" forces operating over the sea lanes to points off the coast are said to be backed by powerful financial groups abroad. The "Prohibition Navy" is confident its own ships can easily deal with those comprising the rum fleet, but before the Coast Guard officers are recent reports indicating that new elements may be found to combat.

RAND MINERS' UNION.

FRESH DEMANDS TO BE MADE.

JOHANNESBURG, Wednesday.

The General Council of the South African Mineworkers' Union has passed two very important resolutions. One deals with giving non-union men a certain time in which to join the union, and the other with the appointment of a committee of four to formulate demands to the Chamber of Mines.

Inquiries in union circles show that the decision to give non-union men until the end of September to join the union is regarded as simply a normal development of the trade union movement since the 1922 strike. The statement is also made that the other unions on the Rand are moving on similar lines to the miners.

Since the set-back the Miners' Union received two years ago the work of re-organisation has steadily progressed, and the union's position is more sound. There is no disposition to say what will be done if a man refuses to join.

As to the second resolution, the number and tenour of the demands is to be left to the proposed committee of four which will formulate them without delay. It is understood, however, that they include a demand for an increase of wages by twenty per cent. on the ground that the cost of living has increased by thirty per cent.

The interesting opinion is expressed here that the Miners' Union, along with the other Rand unions, is attached to the principle of sane trade unionism, and proposes to pursue a moderate policy, taking no extreme action unless forced to do so.—(Reuter.)

CANADA'S HISTORY.

VICISSITUDES OF AN EARLY FORT.

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, NOVA SCOTIA (By Mail).

An eleven-foot high cairn, made of stones collected from the shores of Annapolis Basin, and erected by the Historic Sites and Landmarks Board of Canada to mark the site of the first fort of "habitation" of Port Royal, has been unveiled at Lower Granville, near here. A bronze tablet on the front of the cairn bears the inscription:—"Site of the first fort or 'habitation' of Port Royal, built by the French, under de Monts and Champlain, 1605. Attacked and partially destroyed by a British force from Virginia, 1613. Restored and occupied by Scottish colonists, 1629. Laid waste on their retirement from the country in 1632. Home of the 'Order of Good Cheer.' Birthplace of Canadian literature and drama."—(Reuter.)

EDINBURGH MURDER CHARGE.

PRISONER IN THE WITNESS BOX.

When the trial of William Laurie King (22), who is charged with murdering his mother and attempting to murder his father, was resumed at Edinburgh yesterday, Detective-Inspector Fleming said that in a jacket pocket at the house he found a glass jar labelled "potass ferrocyanide," which, the witness was informed, contained arsenic. The witness found an order form for one pound of arsenious oxide at a firm of chemists. The order was in the name of a firm whose premises the accused was alleged to have frequented, and the witness was informed that it was in the accused's handwriting. The order duplicate had not been filled in, but the duplicates on either side were dated May 26th. The accused was arrested on the following day.

Professor Harvey Littlejohn said that over three grains of arsenic were found in the organs of Mrs. King, who must have taken about ten grains. About one grain of arsenic was taken from the hip pocket of the accused. The witness did not agree that the inadvertent introduction of the open hand into the pocket would withdraw enough arsenic to lead to poisoning.

The accused was called. He admitted the purchase of one pound of arsenious oxide. He wanted the arsenic for chemical and wireless experiments. His mother found the packet of arsenic in his hip pocket and took it away. It was after his arrest that he found that there had been a leakage into his pocket. He never had any ill-will against his father or mother. He denied having sprinkled arsenic on any food.

His cross-examination was reserved until to-day.

HARDY "BRITISH ASSOCIATION" DELEGATE.

TORONTO (By Mail).

At least one delegate to the meetings of the British Association for the Advancement of Science had little worry concerning a place to stay at night. He slept every night on the green sward, with the stars as his bedside candles and the trees as the corners of his "four-poster" bed.

This was a tall, bronzed son of the United States, whose name, appropriate in view of his roaming characteristics, is Waggoner, an entomologist and botanist from New York State, where he is employed in Government service. Mr. Waggoner arrived at the meetings in a car which, in the course of its travels, has lost a few of the supposedly essential parts of the modern automobile, such as mud-guards, top, doors, and the like.

Every day, after attending the meetings of his section, Mr. Waggoner drove his car out into the country, and selected a soft spot for his night's rest.—(Reuter.)

NEW PHOTOGRAPH OF MARS.

GREAT LIGHTNING FLASHES SHOWN.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
INTERLAKEN, Wednesday.

The tempest of snow about the peak of Jungfrau has calmed, enabling Professor Emile Schaerer to continue his observations of Mars. Wrapped in warm cloaks with hoods, Professor Schaerer and his assistant, M. Koellicker, succeeded in the early hours of yesterday morning in getting new measurements and photographs bearing particularly on the changes in the so-called "canals" and "seas" on Mars as the planet comes close to the sun. Large vague flashes of lightning appeared several times. These flashes were much too large to be anything like the lightning we experience upon earth, according to Professor Schaerer, but still such flashes must be due to some such electrical disturbances on a vast scale.

The blizzard seems now to be definitely departed, and as it is appreciably colder, Professor Schaerer hopes that calm weather has arrived for good, which will enable him to continue his observations undisturbed by bad climatic conditions. The glacier has suddenly taken on the appearance of a Polar ice field. There is no snow blowing, and the clouds are at least a mile beneath the observatory.

The aged astronomer will continue his observations throughout the winter, descending to the lower level near Eiger glacier every day for sleep, as the altitude of Jungfrau makes good sleep impossible.

ASTRONOMERS DISAGREE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
BOURGES, Wednesday.

The Abbe Moreux, Director of the Bourges Observatory, announces the result of his observations of the planet Mars during the past days. His observations, he states, showed that the Southern Hemisphere of the planet was covered with a substance resembling vegetation.

The Abbe found the Polar areas very little melted. On this point he thus disagrees with Professor Emile Schaerer at Jungfrau Observatory, who found a steadily decreasing Polar area as from August 1st.

BRAZILIAN REVOLT.

END OF THE MOVEMENT IN SIGHT.

NEW YORK, Wednesday.

The Brazilian Consulate has received a cablegram from the Foreign Office at Rio de Janeiro announcing that Port Obidos, "the only strong element in the hands of the rebels in the Amazonas," has surrendered to the Federal forces. This success may be considered, the message added, "as actually putting an end to the rebellion."—(Reuter.)

MOSCOW'S DESIGNS ON BESSARABIA.

PROPOSED NEW SOVIET REPUBLIC.

RIGA, Wednesday.

Moscow has apparently worked out new plans to foment internal disorders in Bessarabia. In addition to the direct encouragement of risings in Roumanian territory by Communist agitators, these plans include the creation of a new Moldavian Soviet Republic on the banks of the Dniester, within the Soviet Ukrainian borders. Preliminary steps have already been taken, and the proclamation of the Republic may be expected in the immediate future; it is to serve as a centre of agitation, and is to be an attractive example for the inhabitants of Roumania and Bessarabia, whom the agents of Moscow desire to encourage towards a spontaneous elemental movement for inclusion in the new republic.—(Times telegram.)

HIGH FINANCE IN U.S.

THE STORY OF THE WILSON PACKING COMPANY.

Mr. Thomas Wilson, the head of the packing firm of Wilson and Co., has been conferring in New York with his bankers and counsel with a view to contesting the receivership proceedings, which were begun at Trenton, New Jersey. Counsel for the company were understood to be considering counter action, but, apart from asserting that the receivership proceedings would be vigorously contested, they declined to reveal what legal steps were contemplated.

The Wilson Company, one of the "Big Five" in the American packing industry, was originally known as Schwarzchild and Sulzberger, and afterwards as Sulzberger and Co. It was founded by Ferdinand Sulzberger, a German immigrant, who retired in 1913, leaving the management to his two sons, Germon and Max.

They did not possess their father's ability, and the position of the company was further weakened by the fact that the Swift Company had succeeded in purchasing one-third of the outstanding stock of the Sulzberger Company.

At last they found themselves unable to meet a large block of their debentures, which were falling due, and the money was advanced by a group of New York bankers, which included the great firm of Kuhn, Loeb and Co.

According to the United States Federal Trade Commission report, pressure was put on the firm in the interests of the Beef Trust during the war. The bankers invited Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, a leading official of the Morris Beef Company, to become chairman of Sulzberger's at a salary of £20,000 a year, but he declined. Then came a cable from London, stating that the Midland and South Western Banks would refuse all credits and banking facilities unless Germon and Max Sulzberger resigned their positions as vice-presidents.

The British Government put Sulzberger's name on the "black list," and the United States bankers' syndicate forced the Sulzbergers out, and placed Mr. Thomas E. Wilson in control of the company, which took his name in order to give it a thoroughly "pro-ally" flavour.

The bankers and Mr. Wilson between them secured 60 per cent. of the Common Stock (with a nominal value of 12 million dollars) owned by the Sulzberger family. The brothers and their relatives received five dollars for every 100-dollar share they owned, and then the banks and the others in the deal re-sold large blocks of these shares to the public at 50 dollars a share.

The humorous side of the situation was that, while the Sulzbergers were forced out on account of their pro-German sympathies, the bankers who brought the squeeze about included Kuhn, Loeb and Co., whose head, Mr. Jacob Schiff, was one of the most notorious pro-Germans in the States.

Under its new name and control, Wilson and Co. has been acquiring large interests in Alaskan and Pacific fish-canning companies, and also large vegetable-canning interests.

DISTRICT JUSTICE'S DECLARATION.

RAS TAFARI IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, Wednesday.

Since his return here Ras Tafari has been endeavouring to settle the dispute regarding the Abyssinian claim upon the Dei-es-Sultan Coptic Monastery at Jerusalem. As a result of negotiations with the Coptic Patriarch and representatives of the Coptic community, an agreement has apparently been reached, though it requires confirmation from the Coptic General Assembly.—(Reuter.)

TAILTEANN BAND CONTESTS.

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

In the case of the band contests at the Tailteann Games, it has been impossible until to-day to announce the names of the winning bands owing to objections having been lodged in certain cases. These objections have been most carefully considered by the Musical Committee, and their findings were then put before the General Purposes Committee of the Tailteann Council, who upheld the decision of the adjudicator in every case except that of the military bands.

The following are the results:—

Civilian Bands (Brass and Reed)—Class 1—First prize (Feis Ceoil Cup) to St. Joseph's Band, Newry. The next in order of merit was Boherbuoy Band, Limerick.

Class 2—In this class some bands played Boosey's edition of the test piece (overture, "Martha") and others played the Hawkes edition. It was decided to award first prize medals to one band in each case, the winners being St. Catherine's Band, Newry, and Edenderry Band, Belfast, respectively.

Brass Bands—Feis Ceoil Cup awarded to St. James's Band, Dublin.

Flute Bands.—Class 1—Winners: New Ireland Band, Dublin, Sarsfield Band, Limerick, being next in order.

Class 2—Ulster Amateur Flute Band, Belfast. Next in order came Argyle Temperance Band, Belfast.

Pipe Bands.—Winners: St. Laurence O'Toole's, Dublin. Lee Pipers, Cork, and St. John Ambulance Band, Dublin, were adjudged equal in second place.

Individual War Pipes—First prize, Richard Young, St. John Ambulance Band, Dublin; second in merit, F. J. Bigger-Hope, Belfast.

In the case of the military bands, the award was made to the Army School of Music, but an objection was lodged by the D.M.P. Band on the score that the Army Band played an edition of the test piece (overture, "Fingal's Cave") other than that prescribed in the syllabus. After due consideration by the Musical Committee, it was decided that the only fair solution was to have the competition re-played by the three bands concerned. This decision was ratified by the General Purposes Committee, and it is anticipated that the new competition will take place in Dublin early in October.

The adjudicators in the various sections were as follow:—

Military and Civilian Bands—Lieutenant-Colonel Mackenzie Rogan.

Flute Bands—Inspector D. J. Delaney, Civic Guards.

Pipe Bands—Pipe-Major Louis Noble.

REPORT OF THE ADJUDICATOR.

Lieutenant-Colonel MacKenzie Rogan's report on the playing of the brass and brass and reed bands is as follows:—

I have the pleasure to forward herewith the detailed results of the adjudication in the band contests, which took place during the past week, and I desire to bear testimony to the general good standard of the various bands, and the praiseworthy and painstaking efforts of their conductors. The position of those bands at the bottom of the list is, I think, partly to be attributed to the presence among them of not a few young and inexperienced players—a circumstance inseparable from the conditions under which some of the musicians are recruited. It should be remembered that brilliancy in playing, and other important effects where they are demanded, can be obtained without the tone of the band being in any way blatant—this latter is principally due to over-blowing and forcing the tone, which also produces faulty intonation. Some of the bands attained quite a high standard, as will be seen by the marks awarded.

I trust I may be permitted to express my grateful thanks to the Hon. Secretary and the Musical Committee and others who generously placed every facility in my way, and enabled me to discharge my duties under most agreeable conditions.

KILDARE ASSAULT CASE.

SENTENCE OF FIVE YEARS TO STAND.

In the Court of Criminal Appeal in Dublin yesterday, before the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Sullivan, Mr. Justice FitzGibbon, and Mr. Justice Murnaghan, an application was made for leave to appeal in the case of the State v. Michael Delaney, who was convicted, with others, in the Central Criminal Court, before Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy, of having assaulted a man named John O'Toole and stolen from him a sum of £1 18s. at a place called Lipstown, County Kildare, on the night of February 27th last, and was sentenced to five years' penal servitude. Michael Delaney was described as a labourer, residing at Inchiquire, County Kildare. The other two men who were convicted and who received a similar sentence were James Delaney and Thomas Goss.

The applicant had first been indicted with the other two men on the charge of having feloniously broken into O'Toole's dwelling-house and stolen money from him, in addition to the other charges mentioned, but a nolle prosequi was entered with regard to the first part of the indictment.

Mr. W. J. Gleeson (instructed by Mr. P. J. Byrne) appeared for the applicant; and Mr. Carrigan, K.C.; Mr. Dudley White, K.C., and Mr. Costello (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor) appeared for the State.

Mr. Gleeson said that the three prisoners were tried jointly on this charge, but the evidence, so far as it related to Thomas Goss and James Delaney, was different from that as regards Michael Delaney. He had contended before Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy that there was no evidence proper to be submitted to the jury in the case of Michael Delaney, and no evidence on which a verdict of guilty could be returned.

Counsel then read the judge's summing up of the case from the shorthand-writer's transcript, in which the following statement appeared:—"The evidence is that Michael Delaney was with these men that night, and they were all together up to the time that this transaction took place." Counsel submitted that there was no evidence whatever to that effect, nor was there any evidence from which a jury could reasonably or properly draw such an inference. He submitted further that the case for the defence, as affecting Michael Delaney, was not fully put to the jury in the learned judge's summing up. It was not alleged at the trial that this man was not at his home at 11 o'clock that night. There was, he argued, misdirection and non-direction in this case, and the verdict was not reasonably supported by the evidence.

Mr. Carrigan, K.C., in reply, pointed out that during the trial there was no objection taken to the manner in which it was conducted. There was no question of law in this case, and no suggestion was, or could be, made that the trial was unsatisfactory. The judge, in his charge to the jury, had clearly pointed out the distinction between the three men that were tried together. The outrage on the old man O'Toole, according to the evidence, was committed by the three men. One of them remained outside his house on guard, and the two others went in and committed the outrage, the man being taken outside, ill-treated and robbed.

The Chief Justice, in delivering the decision of the Court, said that they had had the advantage of having from Mr. Gleeson a very able argument, which lost nothing by being concise and definitely directed to the important points in the evidence. Notwithstanding that they had themselves read the entire of the evidence, and having given every consideration to the arguments and to the evidence and the charge of the judge at the trial, the Court had come to the conclusion that this was not a case in which liberty to appeal should be granted.

RECENT WILLS.

Colonel William Dickson Winterbottom, late Derbyshire Yeomanry, of Aston Hall, Derby, Magistrate and Deputy-Lieutenant of the County, a director of the Winterbottom Book Cloth Co., Ltd., of Manchester, a strong supporter of sport, particularly hunting and polo, who died on April 24th last, in his 66th year, left £1,069,964, gross, with net personalty £987,617. All the bequests are of a personal nature.

Mr. Joseph McDermott, of Gortin, Londonderry, farmer, Vice-Chairman of the Londonderry Rural Council, who died on June 14th last, aged 79 years, left personal estate in England and Northern Ireland valued at £3,175. Probate of the will dated November 6th, 1918, has been granted to his widow, Mrs. Susan McDermott, of the same place, to whom he left all his property absolutely.

Mr. Lloyd George will address a meeting at Leicester early next month.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"A TROUBLESOME TAX."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—When the Finance Minister got authority from the Dáil to make a charge of 6d. on each Customs entry, I think few of the deputies or the general public realised that this would affect imported goods not subject to duty.

For all such goods a "duty free entry" is made, and a consequent charge of 6d. is involved. This, by implication, creates a Customs charge, not a Post Office charge, as your article might seem to imply, on every parcel posted into Ireland. The charge seems a fair enough one on goods which entail the assessment and collection of duty, but is a ridiculous charge on duty free postal packets.

The Post Office already charged 6d. for the examination of each postal packet of dutiable goods, to which this 6d. must now be added. The result of this charge will, doubtless, be to decrease shopping by post and reduce competition between retail distributors in Ireland.

If, as a nation, we are willing to pay a little more for our goods to assist the distributor (a class of which the Minister for Agriculture tells us we have already an undue proportion), there is nothing to be said against the additional 6d. However, many other parcels come into Ireland in addition to retail purchases. People travelling post clothing, etc.; friends and relatives send presents, and many are forced to buy books and scientific apparatus difficult to get in Ireland.

The writer gets weekly a couple of parcels of books from the London Library, of a class not available in any lending library in Ireland, and he must now pay £2 10s. per year more for his hobby than an Englishman. Many people in remote districts in Ireland get books from libraries posted to them direct, and they must now pay more than a rural dweller in England for their pleasure.

There are, doubtless, many other classes affected by this charge. One feels it is hopeless to protest, as, whilst a political or sentimental grievance will produce a passionate, unselfish and united agitation, a mere matter of £ s. d. will be growled at and cursed, but paid without resistance.

If a respectable minority of those who consider the incidence of this tax oppressive would write to their representative in the Dáil, it might possibly lead to its amendment. But one feels rather hopeless of any organised public opinion regarding a non-sentimental grievance.—Yours, etc.,

JAMES O'HARA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I see from your paper dated 21st August that the Dáil insists, in spite of protests, on the new 6d. tax on all parcels coming into this poor country after 1st September.

The Irish Free State, I understand, desires to encourage tourists to this country. This tax is one which will largely hit this class. Naturally, strangers here will prefer to shop where they are known and have an account, and the continual fees of an extra 6d. on every small article will certainly not conduce to pleasant recollections of their stay, and another time they will probably choose a place where there is less handicap on housekeeping.—Yours, etc.,

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It is, perhaps, not impertinent for an Englishman who has spent four years of his life in Ireland to give an outline of possible negotiations. I suggest that a joint conference of the two Irish Governments be called to consider the following propositions:—

(a) The extension of "Northern Ireland" to include the whole of the old province of Ulster; and (b) the formation of a permanent "Council of Ireland," consisting of an equal number of elected representatives from each of the two States and a few ex-officio members. This body might be advisory in character, and submit measures to the Northern and Southern Parliaments for their consideration and appoval.

I hope that Irishmen will rise to the occasion and confirm my hope that they can settle this problem for themselves.—Yours, etc.,

J. Y. BATLEY.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In a leader to-day you speak of one of the defects in the postal service.

May I remind your readers that there are others? In particular, the one which distresses me at present is the worry of using the telephone. Mr. Walsh himself must surely have had experience of defects which could be remedied by an organiser of such great ability as Mr. Walsh has proved himself to be. If he will now allow the energy so recently and so successfully applied to the Games to be devoted to the telephone service, the results would, I am sure, be so encouraging that he would then have heart to tackle the defects of the postal service, and make that of the Twenty-six Counties compare not unfavourably with that of the Six Counties in efficiency, if not in cost.—Yours, etc.,

HUSBAND AND WIFE DRUG-TAKERS.

CORK MAN SENT TO PRISON.

A remarkable story of a man who had been taking drugs since 1904 and who had made his wife a victim of morphine, and by means of forgeries had obtained over four thousand grains of the drug in ten months, was told when Patrick Joseph McKay (37), no occupation, of Clifton Hill, St. John's Wood, and his wife, Winifred Catherine McKay (32), were charged on remand at Marylebone Police Court, London, with being unauthorised persons found in possession of morphine.

Mr. Muskett, for the police, said that the man had been a drug-taker before his marriage, ten years ago. After the marriage he suggested morphine to his wife, as she suffered from neuralgia, and she soon got into the habit of it.

Mr. Freke Palmer, for the defence, said that Patrick McKay was a native of Cork. He studied medicine for two years and then joined the Navy. He saw service in a gunboat in the Russo-Japanese War, and whilst up river he had appendicitis, and there being no one to operate he suffered terrible pain for twenty-seven days and started taking morphine. From 1904 to 1907 he was taking 40 grains a day, but that he reduced to four grains. He served in the R.A.M.C. in the war, where he had opportunities of taking the drug, and in 1917 was discharged as medically unfit with a 100 per cent. pension, which was subsequently reduced to 50 per cent. At present he was in a deplorable state. Besides being a drug-taker, he had tuberculosis.

The magistrate sent the man to prison for four months.

Sister Mary Michael Burke said that she was prepared to take the woman into their Home at Ecclesfield, Essex. Mrs. McKay was then bound over on condition that she should reside in the Home.

NATIONAL ARTILLERY COMPETITIONS.

The National Artillery Association's competitions concluded yesterday at Watchhouse Battery, near Plymouth, conditions generally being excellent. The second series consisted of firing at a target representing a small vessel attempting to enter harbour. Some good practice was made by the eight teams engaged. The official figures will not be issued until to-day, but it is understood that the order of merit was:—First, Dorset; second, Pembroke; third, Glamorgan; fourth, Lancashire and Cheshire; fifth, Hampshire; sixth, Essex; seventh, Suffolk; eighth, Durham.

UNLAWFUL WIRELESS SET.

At Hemel Hempstead yesterday Arthur Charles Hart, electrician, of Berkhampstead, was prosecuted at the instance of the General Post Office in connection with the alleged unlawful installation of wireless telegraphic apparatus without a licence. There was a further summons for unlawfully working the apparatus without a licence. The defendant pleaded guilty, but without any intention to defraud. Fines of £2 on each summons were imposed.

PETROLEUM steady and unaltered.

COFFEE opened irregular, 13 points up to 7 points down; September rising on covering of shorts, but others declining owing to easier Brazilian markets and selling by commission houses. Subsequently all weakened on expected bearish world's visible supply figures, selling by trade interests and importers and liquidation, and the market closed barely steady at 10 to 27 points fall. Spot firm, ½c. up. Approximate day's sales, 39,000 bags. Future options—September, 16.00; October, 15.75; December 15.35; March, 14.88; May, 14.53.

IRON steady and unchanged to 50 points up.

ELECTROLYTIC COPPER steady.

COTTON opened steady, 18 to 9 points up, on firm cable advices, buying by foreign houses and improvement in Southern spot markets, but reacted owing to increasing stocks and Southern selling. The advance was resumed, however, on buying by New Orleans interests, a bullish weekly Government report, covering of shorts and adverse private crop accounts; but later news of beneficial rains in Texas, selling by spot interests and liquidation caused sharp recessions. The condition of the Textile trade continues unsatisfactory. The market closed easy, 50 to 40 points down. Spot quiet at 50 points fall. New Orleans spot 41 points lower. Receipts:—Atlantic ports, 6,000; Gulf, 13,000; Pacific, nil. Exports—Great Britain, 1,000; Continent, 6,000; Japan, nil. CHICAGO, August 27.

WHEAT opened weak, 1c. to 1⅛c. lower, on a bearish weekly weather bulletin, weaker cable advices, and the lower Winnipeg market; but soon reacted on rumours of export business, in sympathy with the advance in corn, and covering of shorts. The market declined again owing to favourable weather in the Canadian North-West, larger interior receipts, and a disappointing outside inquiry; but finally advanced on small country offerings and commission house buying. The closing was quiet at ⅛c. to 1⅛c. gain. Spot irregular. No. 2 hard winter, spot, 122⅛; No. 3 hard winter, spot, 120⅛. Futures—Opening options, September, 119⅛; December, 123⅛; closing options—September, 121⅛; December, 126⅛; May, 132⅛. To-day's receipts—Western 3,160,000 bushels, same day last year 2,460,000; this season 121,261,000, last season 96,229,000.

MAIZE opened easy, ⅛c. to ⅜c. lower, on a favourable weekly weather bulletin and realising; then recovered, and advanced on predictions of cooler weather, a better cash demand, small stocks, a bullish review by the "Price Current," smaller interior receipts, and active covering of shorts. Partial recessions were made later on selling by cash houses and realising, but the market closed steady, 3½c. to 4c. up. No. 2 mixed, spot, 118. Futures—Opening options, September, 113⅛; December 107⅛; closing options—September, 117; December, 111⅛; May, 112⅛. To-day's receipts—Western 573,000 bushels, same day last year 879,000; this season 35,921,000, last season 37,160,000.

OATS steady at ⅛c. to 1⅛c. rise. Future closing options—September, 48⅛; December, 51⅛; May, 53⅛.

PROVISIONS opened easy, and declined in the early dealings owing to lower hog prices and moderate commission house selling. A rally followed in sympathy with corn, also on foreign buying, covering of shorts, and light offerings. The market closed firm, with lard 32½ to 22½ and ribs 35 to 22½ points up. Lard—Closing options, September, 13.45; October, 13.45; December, 13.42½. Ribs—Closing options, September, 12.00; October, 12.02½; December, unquoted.

DUBLIN LICENSED VINTNERS.

ANNUAL EXCURSION.

The annual excursion of the members of the Dublin Licensed Grocers' and Vintners' Association took place yesterday. Between eighty and ninety members started in motor cars from the offices of the Association, Commercial Buildings, at eleven o'clock, and drove through the Glen of the Downs and a great part of the County Wicklow to Glendalough. At Nunscross the party left their cars and walked through the beautifully wooded Devil's Glen. Here a halt was called, and the party partook of luncheon on the green, under bright, warm sunshine. The party then proceeded across the country to Glendalough, which was reached about half-past four. After the Glen was visited the party dined at the Royal Arms.

Mr. Patrick Conway, President of the Association, occupied the chair, and among those present were Messrs. Sean McGarry, T.D.; T. Hensey, Secretary, Táilteann Games; C. Kennedy, Vice-Chairman of the Association; M. O'Byrue, Secretary; K. Leacock, Chairman of the Dublin Association; Robert Stronge, T. J. Hutcheson, E. Comerton, Secretaries.

The President specially welcomed the representatives of the North of Ireland, and expressed the hope that the bonds of business friendship which had subsisted between them would never be weakened.

Mr. Leacock assured the Association that, so far as the North was concerned, there was no partition in their trade interests

Mr. McGarry said that it was good to know that the South could agree with the North in all things but politics. In sport and in business they were as one, and in these spheres no question of boundary existed. (Applause.)

Mr. Hensey said that the recent Táilteann Games proved that as between North and South, in athletics and sports, there was no boundary question. Meetings like these would help to wipe out the difficulty regarding the boundary. (Cheers.)

LOW-FLYING AEROPLANE.

INQUIRY INTO CHICHESTER ACCIDENT.

At the inquest on two victims of the aeroplane crash at Lavant, near Chichester, held yesterday afternoon, a verdict of accidental death was entered. Several witnesses stated that at the time of the accident the aeroplane was flying very low. A corporal of the 2nd Grenadier Guards, who was in the field where the machine fell estimated its height at 100 feet.

Flight Lieutenant C. Pilkington, Commanding the detachment of the 16th Squadron of the Royal Air Force at Tangmere Aerodrome, identified the bodies as those of Flying Officer John William Carl Harcourt Vernon, 23, of Andover, and Aircraftsman Charles Carpenter, 23, of Brockley, London. They left the aerodrome in a Bristol Fighter last Tuesday morning, instructed by him to fly at 500ft. and take certain photographs. The machine was in perfect order, and the pilot was an experienced officer. From an examination of the wrecked machine he could find no cause for the accident, and believed that flying too low was the explanation. Five hundred feet would be quite safe.

The bodies will be interred at Andover.

CORK COUNCIL INQUIRY.

THE CONDITION OF THE QUAYS.

CORPORATION'S CASE OPENED.

At the resumption yesterday of the Local Government Department inquiry into the performance of their duties by the Cork Corporation, which is being conducted by Mr. Nicholas O'Dwyer, Chief Engineering Inspector, it was decided to hear all the Progressive Association's witnesses before the Corporation officials are examined.

Mr. Timothy O'Shea, director of Green and Co., grain merchants, gave evidence as to the bad condition of the quays. Anderson's quay was in such a shocking condition that it was almost impossible to haul loads there. The roadway had not been re-surfaced within living memory. Some time ago a jetty collapsed, and half of the roadway fell into the harbour. The Harbour Board promptly built a fine deep-water quay there, but the Corporation did not raise the roadway to the proper level, and the quay was higher than the roadway, and water lodged on the surface of the road.

To Mr. Meagher (for the Corporation)—It was a faulty road from the start, and would require a complete scheme of reconstruction.

Mr. Douglas Ross also gave evidence as to the bad condition of the quays, some of which were only mud, with loose stones thrown on them.

COUNCILLOR'S STATEMENT.

Mr. Stephen O'Riordan, T.C., who desired to give evidence, was then sworn. It was only that morning, he said, that he saw in the Press that Mr. James Donovan, ex-T.C., had made a statement about him on the previous day. He continued:—I was away last week for three or four days on business, and when I came back on Saturday morning I was informed that Mr. Donovan was going around the streets with a pamphlet exposing a number of members of the Corporation, and I was told that I was one of them. I said how could that occur, and I then learned that there was a half-year's rate, amounting to £2 5s. 9d., due by me for the year during which I was interned. I said that I was never asked for it, and that I always paid, and if I had been asked for it that I would have paid it. I sent for Mr. Ireton, City Treasurer, and I asked him about it, and he told me that there was £2 5s. 9d. due, and I immediately paid it on Sunday morning. I was outside Brunswick street Chapel, and I met Mr Donovan, and I said—"Are you the man who is exposing me in the street?" and I then said: "You must be careful. It was during my term of internment that the half-year's rate was due, and I mean to defend myself." As far as the Corporation is concerned, I would not give a button, and I would defend myself anywhere. During the half-year for which that rate of £2 5s. 9d. was due, from March, 1921, to September, 1921, I was interned, and my house was empty and my family were away in Kerry. What I meant in addressing Mr. Donovan was, that if he continued libelling me in the street, I would take the necessary steps to defend myself.

Mr. Meagher—Your remark was as regards Mr. Donovan's conduct about you in the street, and not to any evidence that he was giving here?

Witness—Yes, that is so. Mr. Donovan has made a statement here that I threatened him that I would use physical force. Well, I promise Mr. Donovan if I wanted to use physical force that it would be on one more different than Mr. Donovan. I have more honour in me than to use any physical force or anything like that to a man like him.

To Mr. Donegan—He did not intend the words "be careful" to be a threat to Mr. Donovan.

Mr. Donovan, ex-T.C.—I did not even know that Mr. O'Riordan's name was on the list until yesterday morning.

THE CORPORATION CASE.

When the evidence on behalf of the Progressive Association had concluded, Mr. Meagher said that he intended to examine officials engaged in different departments to show the manner in which the business was conducted. The present Corporation did not claim to be immaculate, or not to have made mistakes. Every man and every body was liable to err at times, but they claimed that they had performed their duties in the difficult and trying circumstances and conditions under which they had to labour in a satisfactory manner, and in the best interests of the city.

He then dealt at length with Alderman Beamish's statement. It was suggested that the rates were abnormally high. Why were they high? Grievances laid against the Corporation by opponents had been directed towards the non-expenditure of large sums of money by that body on extensive works, but if all those works had been carried out goodness only knew what the extent of the rates would be. In 1914 the rates were, roughly, 11s. 11d. in the £, and to-day they were something over 20s. in the £. Everyone knew of the big increase that had taken place in the wages of the labour which the Corporation had to employ extensively, and it was only natural that such an increase should take place. He laid emphasis on the fact that a substantial portion of that rate was not under the control of the Corporation, but still the Corporation was obliged to pay it out for the purposes for which it was utilised. Two efforts had already been made by the Corporation to extend the borough boundary, but on each occasion the inquiry had gone against them. Only three members of the Corporation were in default in rates, and of these Mr. Riordan had paid, while two others were not in a position to do so, and he was sure that by the time the inquiry had concluded the citizens and the authorities would be satisfied that the Corporation had discharged its duties fairly and reasonably, and that no ground existed for interference with it.

ALDERMAN'S CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Alderman Beamish, T.D., was then cross-examined, and stated that he was a member of the Corporation for thirteen years, but had not attended meetings of that body for two years. He had been Chairman of the Public Works Committee. The extension of the borough boundary failed because they had sought to include too extensive an area. His objection to the appointment of a member of the Corporation who had not resigned six months previously to a temporary position was because the thin end of the wedge was dangerous, and if one man was appointed illegally and no notice was taken of it, it would lead to more jobbery.

Asked by the Inspector why he did not attend the Corporation and Public Works Committee, Alderman Beamish said that he found the inefficiency absolutely hopeless, and that attention was concentrated only in the employment of friends and so on. "I saw," he said, "that the whole thing was drifting towards what I called economic chaos, and as I am called upon for a considerable number of duties here in connection with many companies, I did not consider it worth while. It was a waste of time when no good could come of it to our people here in Cork."

Mr. Nolan, ex-T.C., challenged Alderman Beamish with canvassing a member of the Corporation with regard to the house at the corner of Patrick's Hill, which was now a branch of the Provincial Bank.

Mr. Beamish admitted having consulted the member referred to as to whether it was right to have the bank there.

In the course of further questions, Mr. Nolan asked—Do you swear that you did not say that you would get this Corporation wiped out? No.

The Inspector intervened to say that, while he would allow Mr. Nolan to ask questions regarding any personal matter, he could not permit him to carry on a general cross-examination, as the Corporation, as a whole, was represented by counsel.

Mr. Nolan insisted that he was entitled to cross-examine.

The Inspector said that he could not allow it.

Mr. Nolan—That only convinces me that your minds are made up in the matter.

The Lord Mayor also questioned Mr. Beamish with regard to the bank, and concluded: "I will say it now, and I have thought it all along since the start of the inquiry, that you are taking up a very scandalous attitude in the veiled proceedings. You have made the most insulting answers, and you have made all kinds of charges on rumours, and yet, in your insulting and hostile answers, you have never once been checked by the gentleman who is conducting this inquiry."

The Inspector said that it would be better if no such attitude were adopted, and that questions were answered as they were put.

The Witness—It is absolutely untrue that I wished to canvass the Lord Mayor, at least, in any way illegally. I have a right to discuss with people and public representatives and others such matters as the extent to which banking facilities would increase the business and trade of the city.

The Lord Mayor—My character will be put before the public newspapers to-morrow, and I want every individual who reads it to be absolutely right, and I say, before my God, that I absolutely deny any hall-mark statement made by Alderman Beamish as the most cowardly, mean, and deliberate falsehood that has ever been uttered by one man against another. My position in those bank premises at the foot of Patrick's Hill is that I got a letter signed by Dr. O'Connor and Dr. Rahilly, and also by Mrs. Hones, and also some other medical men, whose names I cannot remember, stating that they objected to the obstruction of their light in Patrick's Field by the erection of these premises. I put forward that argument in order to prevent such an irregularity. That was my only motive in moving the rejection of the plans. I think that any party of ratepayers or citizens had a right to bring forward a complaint. I am prepared to leave my reputation against that of Alderman Beamish to the people of Cork, and I have not the slightest doubt that the result will be favourable to me. (Applause.)

Mr. Beamish—I withdraw anything I said that might create the impression of imputing anything to the Lord Mayor. He is a friend of mine, and I admire him. (Applause.)

The Lord Mayor—It was distinctly stated that I am briefed on behalf of one bank against another.

The witness said that he made no imputation whatever against the Lord Mayor, and he withdrew anything that might cause such an impression.

The inquiry was adjourned until this morning.

DEATH FROM ANTHRAX.

DANGER OF SHAVING BRUSHES.

Joseph Taylor, manufacturer's clerk, of Hull, has died from anthrax. The City Coroner, at the opening of the inquest last night, said that he understood that Taylor had contracted the infection from a shaving brush which he purchased at Scarborough. They would have to trace the origin of the shaving brush, and probably they would be assisted by the Scarborough Coroner, who, he was informed, was investigating a similar case. The inquest was adjourned for a week.

NEW STORES AT DUBLIN PORT.

Yesterday a long-felt requirement at the Port of Dublin was supplied by the opening of the new stores erected by the Port and Docks Board at the Dodder side of Sir John Rogerson's quay. The stores, which cover an area of four hundred feet by fifty feet, are fitted with large sliding doors in such a manner that carters can go to and leave the ships direct through the stores if they wish. Girders and concrete form the material of which the new structure is built, and the roof is on the principle of half corrugated iron and half glass, so that there is an abundance of light. Everything has been done on a well-designed plan. For a long time the need of further extensive storage on the southern side of the river has been felt.

The first vessel to use the new stores was the ss. Northdale, of Liverpool, which reached the port with a cargo of slag from Ghent. Her discharge was effected in good time, and all concerned were pleased with the arrangements made in the stores.

PEDIGREE SHEEP SALE.

GOOD PRICES IN DUBLIN.

BRISK TRADE.

There were 206 rams and 190 ewes submitted for auction at the annual show and sale held under the auspices of the Irish Pedigree Sheep Breeders' Association at 50 Prussia street, Dublin, yesterday. An outstanding feature was the fine display of Suffolks and Oxford Downs. There was also a creditable muster of Border Leicesters and Shrops. A number of new flock-owners were in attendance, and trade for sheep of good type and quality was brisk.

The work of adjudication was entrusted to the following:—

Shrops—Mr. Hugh Campbell. Border Leicesters and Lincolns—Mr. George Hume. Oxfords—Mr. J. R. Meares. Suffolks—Mr. James Raffan.

EWES.

Oxford Down ewes were headed by a pen from Mr. W. Ernest Kilroy, which were also awarded the Challenge Cup. They were subsequently sold at £11 5s. to Captain O. G. Hinds, another lot from the same flock making £9 10s. Mr. A. J. Wilsdon was second with a draft of nice quality that sold at £11 each. Lord Muskerry's lot realised £5 10s. apiece, Mr. Robert Downes's lambs £4 10s. and £5, and his ewes £6. Ewes from Mr. H. D'E. Strevens brought from £7 15s. to £10 5s.

For Suffolk ewes first and second prizes went to Mr. J. McS. McCulloch for shearlings of great style and substance that changed hands at £10 and £10 15s. respectively. Other ewes from this flock ranged from £8 to £9 10s., while two lots of lambs realised £5 and £6 per head. Mr. H. S. Gill's ewes ranged from £6 10s. to £7 10s. and his lambs £6 10s. Mr. A. S. Harman, a new Suffolk sheep-breeder, sold his ewes at £5 each, while ewe lambs from Mr. R. W. Boothman realised £5 10s.

Mr. J. W. Tomkins, Gorey, was the only exhibitor of Border Leicester ewes, and they brought £4 10s. and £4 15s.

For Shropshire ewes first and second prizes went to Colonel R. B. Charteris, Cahir, for two choice pens that made £10 each. His reserve pen realised £8, while others found buyers at £9 15s. and £10 15s. each. A draft from the flock of Lord Barrymore made £7 5s., £7 10s. and £8 per head. Colonel Sir N. T. Everard's ewes made £10.

RAMS.

Suffolks made a capital turnout, and Miss Tynte accounted for the Challenge Cup and two first prizes. Her first prize shearling ram is a sire of wonderful type that won here last year as a lamb. He was subsequently sold to Mr. J. G. Evans, Nobber, for 30 guineas. Her third prize shearling ram was sold to Captain Woods for 16 guineas. With a ram lamb she won first prize and the Cup. This lamb was subsequently sold at 35 guineas to Mr. M. F. Farrell, Cashel. Other ram lambs from this flock realised 12 and 13½ guineas each, the buyers including Messrs. Balding, O'Hanrahan, G. Fisher, J. McCormack, and Admiral Craig Waller. Mr. H. S. Gill was second with a shearling that was sold at 18 guineas to Mr. Fox, another changing hands at 12½ guineas. For ram lambs from this flock prices ranged from 9½ to 14½ guineas. The buyers included Messrs. McMullen, Pim, Howlett, Dreaper, and the Waterford Estate. Mr. J. McS. McCulloch was second and third with ram lambs, the latter bringing 19 guineas from Mr. Lenehan, who paid a similar price for the reserve shearling. The second prize lamb was unsold. Other lambs made from 12½ to 17½ guineas, while shearlings realised 17½ guineas. Major W. G. Dease's ram lambs sold at 9½ and 10 guineas, and Mr. A. S. Harman's at 12, 13 and 14 guineas. Mr. R. W. Boothman had a well-bred shearling that realised 20½ guineas, while his ram lambs made 13 and 13½ guineas, the latter price being paid for one which was placed reserve. Mrs. Synnott sold her shearlings for 7 and 11½ guineas and her ram lambs at 5½ and 8½ guineas. Mr. M. J. Fitzgerald's shearlings made 7½ and 8 guineas and his ram lambs 7 to 8 guineas. Ram lambs belonging to Rear-Admiral A. Craig Waller realised 9, 11, 13 and 14½ guineas, the buyers being Messrs. Farrell, Pim, Adair, Dwyer, Huddleston, and the Waterford Estate.

OXFORD DOWNS.—For ram lambs first prize was awarded to Mr. T. Levins Moore for a youngster that brought 20½ guineas from Mr. Leonard, other representatives of the flock making 8½ and 10 guineas. Second and third prizes for ram lambs went to Mr. Robert Downes for a pair that made 12 and 10½ guineas respectively, another making 11 guineas. Shearling rams from this flock realised 12½ to 14½ guineas. Mr. G. N. Jessop sold a number of shearlings at 12 to 13½ guineas, and Mr. J. E. St. George a lot at 9 to 11 guineas. First, second and third prizes for shearlings went to Mr. W. Ernest Kilroy, who also won the two specials. For the premier winner Mr. J. E. St. George paid 35 guineas. The second prize taker went to Mr. Thomas Taylor for 25 guineas, and the third prize ram to Mr. A. J. Wilsdon for 21 guineas. Two more from this flock made 13½ and 17 guineas. Mr. A. J. Wilsdon's shearlings realised from 12 to 14½ guineas, Mr. H. D'E. Strevens's lot from 9 to 10½ guineas, and those from the Agricultural Station, Athenry, from 12½ to 18 guineas.

BORDER LEICESTERS made a meritorious show, and for shearling rams first and third prizes went to Mr. Nathaniel Webster, Gorey, who received 18 guineas for the first and 17½ guineas for the other. Other rams from this flock made from 12½ to 19 guineas. Second prize went to Miss K. A. Staples, who sold her prize winner at 16½ guineas to Mr. J. Cowan. Other rams from this flock ranged from 15½ to 17 guineas per head. Mr. M. H. Franks had a draft that made from 11 to 16 guineas, while Mr. J. W. Tomkins obtained from 13½ to 15½ guineas for his.

SHROPS.—In this section Colonel Sir N. T. Everard, Bart., won first prize and two highly commended tickets. His winner became the property of Sir F. W. Lambart at 30 guineas, while the highly commended pair went to Captain Slator at 19 guineas and Colonel Purdon Winter at 14½ guineas, other shearlings here making from 10½ to 18 guineas. Colonel R. B. Charteris was second with a ram that sold at 13 guineas to Mr. Bor, others making from 14 to 17 guineas. Mr. Robert Millin's draft made from 12½ to 15 guineas. Lord Barrymore had a nice lot that changed hands at 11 to 15½ guineas.

LINCOLNS were limited in number, but the quality was good. Mr. P. O'Brien, Enniscorthy, was first with a shearling that was sold to Captain Massey for 25 guineas. Mr. William Gleeson's second prize ram realised 18 guineas, while his third prize ram was unsold. Miss A. H. Norris secured the top price of the section—27 guineas—from Mr. P. Gibney, while another was sold for 25 guineas and a third at 14 guineas. Mr. Thomas Mounsey's lot brought from 5 to 13 guineas, and Mr. Thomas Carty's pair 8 to 10 guineas.

Messrs. Gavin Low, Ltd., were the auctioneers, and the business of the day was carried through with commendable expedition.

DROGHEDA SHOW.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING DAY.

A good but small show about sums up this year's fixture of the Drogheda and District Show Association, the first day of which came off yesterday. Cattle were particularly good, and it was a proper farmer's show in this important section. One of the judges who has adjudicated at Drogheda for a lengthy spell of years gave it as his opinion that the cattle he had to look over—in other words, the section as a whole—were the best he had seen there for at least six years. Horses, too, were satisfactory, and if they were comparatively few in number, the few were really good and some of high class. Sheep were very fair, indeed, and pigs just moderate. Taking it all in all, this year's Drogheda show was satisfactory in the quality of the exhibits, but one would like it better supported by exhibitors. Its situation is highly convenient, its committee and officials do their best to please both exhibitors and public, and yet it hangs fire, as it were. Were it not for the attraction of the jumping—which usually is quite good here—its life would be precarious. But, after all, every show nowadays depends upon the attraction of its jumping programme to carry it through from year to year.

One boon vouchsafed this season was the splendid weather meted out for the first day. It was, in fact, in direct contrast to last year's experience, when an exceptionally heavy rainfall literally made the first day a "wash-out." The loss of revenue through that day, and the debt incurred—for the expenses of the show continued on—has crippled the society badly since, and it will need several well-attended shows to put it properly upon its feet financially again. Yesterday should have helped considerably in that way, and to-day, the local half-holiday, should go further towards reducing the debt. Let us hope it will; and, at any rate, there is a splendid jumping programme arranged for this afternoon, and also a minor dog show—at least, one confined to dogs from the immediate district.

The healthy nature of the cattle section has already been commented upon, and the remark passed that it was a farmer's show. So also was the weather farmer's weather, and, with lots to do on the land, it was something of a feat to bring together yesterday the fine collection of cattle seen in competition. Pure-bred cattle were few. Mr. James Bellew showed a shorthorn bull and carried off a first with him, while he and Mrs. Osborne shared the prizes in the class for shorthorn heifers with calf at foot. Mr. W. Tully received a first for his Hereford bull. Otherwise the classes ran through the gamut of a farmer's show, and amongst the winning exhibitors were Messrs. J. C. McKeever, L. Kinsella, G. H. Daly, P. Flanagan, W. Tully, P. Bell, P. Gogan, V. McDonagh, J. Drew, P. Clarke, T. C. Caulfield, T. Downey, J. Devine, J. J. Dolan, P. Marry. Four of the classes were guaranteed by, and confined to, members of the South Louth Cow Testing Association, a society that is very much alive and doing excellent work. The principal class of these was that for the best dairy cow, and in it Mr. J. Drew's exhibit won on points and took the Silver Challenge Cup, Mr. P. Clarke and Mr. T. C. Caulfield showing the second and third prize winners.

In a rather small show of sheep the principal winners were Messrs. James Tallon and W. P. Cairnes. In the Pig Section Sir Edward and Lady Bellingham and Mr. J. Clarke were the leading winning exhibitors.

The Horse Section was more marked for quality than quantity. It was diveded between hunters and horses likely to make hunters and draught horses, the latter, by the way, being in no way equal to the former divison. The outstanding hunter in competition was Mr. Robert Cargill's six-year-old bay gelding, Rathnally, a winner at Navan and at Dublin, a grand stamp of a hunter, and a well-known performer with the Meath and Louth Hounds. He headed his class and won out for his owner this time the Filgate Challenge Cup. Placed second to him was Mr. J. C. McKeever's chestnut gelding, Cassidy. Mr. Cargill won also the four-year-old class with the chestnut gelding, Golden Sun, by The Boss, the second going to Mr. Alex. Rodgers. Mr. Louis was another good winner, taking the first in the brood mare class with an aged, deep, thick-set mare, whose foal was awarded the foal prize. He won the three-year-old class with a bay gelding who had received an honour at Dublin, and was first also in the yearling class with a very nice colt. There was a lot to like about the second in this class, a good type of deep colt and a half brother to Enchanted Duke, shown by Mr. P. Dorey. Mr. J. J. O'Brien showed two mares in the brood mare classes, and took the second and third with them, respectively.

Draught horses do not call for any comment. Mr. P. McGrath won the three-year-old class, and Mr. T. Noonan and Mr. P. Pentony were placed first and second in the two-year-old class.

The jumping opened with a novices' competition, in which many of the competitors were palpable novices. One, indeed, had a trick of diving under the wing of a fence in preference to jumping. The winner eventually was Mr. Alex. Rodgers's Petrel, who did a couple of very good rounds, Mr. T. Long's I See getting second.

EVENT C.—Miss C. M. Corbally's Peter Pan (Mr. J. Long), 1; Mr. John Kennedy's Glider (Mr. J. Traynor), 2; Mrs. J. Magee's Nugget (Mr. R. Keating), 3.

"THE REIGN OF LAW."

"The Reign of Law" was the title of a paper read last night at Oxford, at the Conference of Modern Churchmen, by the Rev. F. R. Tennant, Lecturer in Theology, and Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge. He said that if prayer for the control of the physical was to be ruled out, it must be on ethical, and not on scientific, grounds. Theism was but the final stage of a faith which was continuous from man's primordial credulity, through all the stages of science, in its quest for rationality.

HALF-HOUR SERVICE AT £1 FARE.

A scheme for an aerial cross-Channel "ferry," with a half-hourly service of the new big "Napier Swan" flying boats, operating between Folkestone and Boulogne, is being drawn up by British and French experts.

Driven by two Napier engines totalling 1,000 h.p., these big flying boats have accommodation for twelve passengers and can make the crossing in about fifteen minutes. With such an air ferry running every half-hour, passengers for the Continent would be able to take any train to Folkestone and be across, at the longest, forty-five minutes after leaving the train at Folkestone.

It is understood that a fare of £1 would be charged for the cross-Channel flight.

DUKE OF WESTMINSTER'S LONDON HOUSE.

DUCHESS SEEKS INJUNCTION.

The Duchess of Westminster, at the Vacation Court in London yesterday, sought an injunction to restrain the Duke from ejecting her from Bourdon House, Davies street, Berkeley square.

Counsel for the Duke asked for an adjournment for a fortnight. He said that affidavits had been served containing a highly controversial matter. The Duchess had gone to America and the Duke was abroad.

Counsel for the Duchess said that he was not prepared to agree to an adjournment.

Mr. Justice Tomlin stated that he was willing to adjourn the matter, but wanted to know whether there was a necessity for undertaking to maintain the status quo.

The Duchess's counsel said that his contention was that the Duchess was in occupation of the house and was entitled to go there when she wished. His friend contended that she was not entitled to do so. The Duke's servants, he continued, had told her maid that she will not be allowed to go. She cannot go to get her boxes, and had been told if she goes she will be turned into the street. The Duchess's maid, he added, is in the house, but has been deprived of her food by the other servants. The house was staffed by the Duke's servants.

His Lordship—Well, over the adjournment the maid must be allowed to remain there, and her custody of the Duchess's chattels must be respected.

Counsel for the Duke agreed.

Counsel then left the Court, but a little later returned, and counsel for the Duke informed his lordship that they had not been able to agree upon the form of undertaking.

His Lordship—Then you must mention the case at a later stage.

About an hour later counsel for the Duchess informed the Court that a form of undertaking had been agreed.

His Lordship—Very well. On the undertaking being given by the defendant, the motion will stand over for a fortnight.

It is a ridiculous fallacy to pretend that the commercial prosperity of one country is detrimental to the prosperity of other countries.—Mr. Snowden.

AN EASY WAY TO STOP INDIGESTION

The easiest, quickest, and surest way to stop indigestion is to remove the cause of the trouble. Practically all forms of indigestion and stomach trouble are due to, or accompanied by, an abnormal condition known as acidity, which causes fermentation and the formation of gas. Correct this condition and all pain and distress almost instantly disappear. For this purpose the best thing known is to take a little of that harmless antacid known as Bisurated Magnesia. This instantly neutralises the acid, stops the fermentation and formation of gas, and permits painless normal digestion. Get a package of Bisurated Magnesia, costs but a trifle (either powder or tablets), from your chemist to-day and take after eating or whenever pain is felt, and you'll be astonished at the results—pain, distress, discomfort, and fullness all gone as if by magic. Nothing else relieves as quickly and surely. Try it to-day.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

SECOND DAY AT YORK.

MARVEX WINS THE EBOR HANDICAP.

MODERATE FORM OF ST. LEGER FAVOURITE.

From Our Travelling Correspondent.

YORK, Wednesday Night.

The present writer at the moment could give an excellent imitation of a man attempting to kick himself. This comes of having seen Marvex win the Ebor Handicap this afternoon in the most decisive fashion by three lengths from Norseman, after being first or second practically all the way. Ever since he won at Nottingham, and knowing that his trainer had overcome the foot trouble which bothered him earlier in the season, I have been impressed with the great chance he possessed here if he were certain to stay the distance.

When summing up the race last night it was raining heavily, and there was every prospect of the going being very heavy, which, in point of fact, it was this afternoon. Fearing to take his stamina too much on trust under such conditions, I chose Brisl to finish in front of him, and am confounded by the result. Marvex gave a splendid exhibition of stamina and gameness, and Gardner rode him as if his staying powers were never for a moment in doubt. The result well paid his extreme confidence.

A STEADY DOWNPOUR.

It was a miserable day here. There is a tradition in York nearly as old as the Minster itself, that it always rains on Ebor Day, and it poured with a vengeance steadily from half an hour before racing began until just before the sixth event, when the sun came out. The paddock was converted into a pond, and it was difficult to see half the field during the few moments they remained in the parade. The going itself was terribly sticky and holding.

There was much excitement over the North country horse, Cottingham, for it was stated during the morning that he would not run. All the same, his number went into the frame and he started joint second favourite at 8 to 1. He is a good-looking colt, but he ran execrably, was well away but soon dropped back, and I will now dismiss him with the remark that he will do better than this some other time in the season.

EBOR HANDICAP BETTING.

The feature of the market was the run on Brisl, who started favourite, and next to him in demand were Cottingham and Norseman, with Flint Jack well backed at nines, and Bellman and the winner supported at tens. Flint Jack was actually the first to show in front, but he dropped back and settled down about fifth or sixth, a position which he occupied throughout the race, and in which he also finished. He put up a good show without ever looking likely to trouble the winner.

On settling down, the North Country gelding, Fair Dinkum, made the running from Marvex. It was only on sufferance, however, for well before they turned into the straight Gardner took Marvex to the front. The only one thereafter that ever seriously challenged him was Norseman, on whom Donoghue drew level. He may, indeed, actually have headed him, but Marvex pulled out a fine effort, and soon drawing clear again, came home an easy and a gallant winner.

CEINTURON'S SURPRISE.

The surprise of the race was Ceinturon. He had settled down last of all except Despote, and was still there at half way. I did not see him until a hundred yards from home, when he burst out in front of the others and finished third, four lengths behind Norseman. Shippon, Brisl, and Lauzun were all prominent throughout the race, but nothing except the grey horse ever looked for a second like beating the winner. Lieutenant-Colonel Blacker's filly, El Obeid, finished fourth.

There were a couple of good victories for Irish-bred animals during the afternoon. Argozone, whom Eleanor Lady Torrington has leased from Mr. J. McAuley, won the Londesborough Welter Handicap in good style from The Prude's Fall. I had always heard that this good-looking chestnut was smart, but only over sprint distances. Last week, in a mile race at Bath, he was backed from 20 to 1 down to 2 to 1, and was well beaten out of a place. He was backed to-day, but to nothing like the same tune, and won in very smart style, indeed, after making nearly all the running.

CRIMSON DAWN'S SUCCESS.

The other Irish animal to win was Crimson Dawn, a gelded five-year-old son of Glasgerion, owned by Mr. C. F. Kenyon, who beat Francis Joseph, Heron, and a field of smart sprinters in the race for the Clifton Plate. He had failed six times this season, but here he put up quite the best performance of his career. Francis Joseph swerved right across the course in the last hundred yards, but I do not think it made any difference to the result.

An Irish colt who failed was the useful St. Leger outsider, Santorb. He was thought such a good thing for the Duke of York Plate that long odds were laid on him. He was slowly off, and settled down last of all except Philinna. Donoghue gradually moved him up, and he took the lead half-way up the straight. He was a long time pulling out enough speed to shake off Procyon on the inside, and when he had finally mastered the latter Cape Horn came up on the outside to beat him by three-parts of a length. It was not a very good performance, though the winner, who beat Mr. Bliss at Birmingham, may be a bit better than many of us thought. He is a very good-looking colt, who won here twelve months ago.

The Convivial Plate fell to Mr. J. B. Joel with a very attractive filly by Othello out of My Dolly, who made all the running and beat the two favourites, Mandoline and Vulpina filly, very easily.

Sir Thomas Dixon ran Ravelston in the Rous Two-Year-Old Plate, but he was caught in the last hundred yards and well beaten by Sir Picton.

GALLOP BY ST. LEGER FAVOURITE.

An interesting incident of the day unconnected with the actual racing was the gallop done by the St. Leger favourite, Sansovino, on the course early in the morning. He had done so moderately in his gallop at Newmarket on Saturday morning that Mr. Lambton adopted the expedient of trying him on a racecourse. He and Highbrow were stripped, Weston riding Sansovino and McLachlan, jun., Highbrow, and sent the full St. Leger distance. It was hardly a full-pace gallop, and it cannot be said that Sansovino gave satisfaction. It certainly was not impressive, and does not make one incline any more towards his St. Leger chance.

The Gimcrack is the chief event to-morrow, and Iceberg is much fancied. I prefer, however, the chance of the Irish filly, GAME SHOT, about whose prospects her owner and trainer are very optimistic. She has a six pounds advantage in the weights with Iceberg. TRANSCENDENT is said to be a good thing for the Great Yorkshire Stakes, and I like best the chance of PATRAS in the very open race for the Harewood Handicap.

LIMERICK JUNCTION.

INTERESTING SPORT.

PORTREE FAILS.

The number of meetings held of late in the South had little effect on the attendance on the opening day of the Limerick Junction meeting, as the crowd was well up to the average. Nor was there a paucity of runners, the fields, with one exception, being of nice strength, and some interesting racing was witnessed. A few light showers during the afternoon did not seriously interfere with the comfort of the visitors, and the going, despite the recent wet weather, was in good order.

Of the eight runners for the Sologhead Hurdle race there were several well fancied, and there was little to choose between Lady Blanchette and St. Eminence as regards favouritism, the former leaving off in slightly better request. The race proved an easy affair for St. Eminence, who after heading Glowanna at half way, remained in front for the rest of the journey. The Flying Plate resolved itself into a match between Canzonet and Zulu Queen for practically all the way, but the former, who was going the easier throughout, pulled out to score in ready style in last couple of furlongs.

Another easy win was that of Credo in the Ballykisteen Plate, the son of Junior conceding 20lb. and a beating to Merrion Strand. There was an interesting race between Ardaulin and Portree for the Stewards' Plate, which the former won by a neck. For a long way Star of Earn looked like also having a say in the finish, but both she and Dinette's daughter died out in the closing stages.

Only five runners turned out for the Dublin Plate, but they provided a right good contest, and it was only towards the end that Golden Cherry succeeded in shaking off Start Again who, like the winner, jumped in flippant style. Ben Cruchan, shouldering the big impost of 12st. 11lb., cantered home an easy winner from two others in the three miles steeplechase.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

An excellent wind-up is promised for the York fixture, for the concluding day's card is, perhaps, the most interesting of the three, including as it does the historic Gimcrack and the Great Yorkshire Stakes. The weather continues fine, and the going, which is still a little holding, should have benefited by the sunshine yesterday. I had thought Sun Worship colt would win the Gimcrack, but I understand that he is in reserve for the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster, and so I must look elsewhere for the winner. Iceberg runs, but, though he is a good colt, he is, I fancy, some way off top class. There is little doubt that Game Shot is little, if any, behind the best of her age, but her breeding does not suggest stamina, and she may find this rather severe six furlongs beyond her compass. Chang Chia is one that is sure to get the distance, but he lacks a little class, and for the winner I shall rely on Sir Kenneth. He stays well and has, in my opinion, been a trifle unlucky not to have won a race before. He was in all probability up against the best two-year-old we have yet seen in Priory Park at Goodwood, and, though he was readily defeated, he ran really well. Sansovino does not apparently, after all, run in the Great Yorkshire Stakes, and so that at once assumes a more open appearance. Perhaps, in his absence, Great Barrier may be good enough. I fancy Stanhope will take a deal of beating in the Harewood Handicap, though Equator must be a big danger on what I should imagine is an ideal course for him. Selections:—

DATES OF IRISH CHAMPIONSHIPS.

LEINSTER v. ULSTER INTER-PROVINCIALS.

The Munster Branch of the I.A.S.A. has arranged to hold the 220 Yards Men's Championship of Ireland at the Municipal Baths, Cork, on Friday, 5th September. Ulster will play Munster at water-polo on the same date.

The 440 Yards and Mile Irish Championships (Men) and Diving and 220 Yards (Ladies), allocated to Leinster, have yet to be held, and it has now been decided to hold no less than three of them at a big gala which is being organised. The venue, of course, will be the Zoological Gardens Lake, and, in addition to the Ladies' Diving and 220 Yards and the Men's Mile Championships, the final of the Leinster Senior Water-Polo Cup will be decided, as well as a Men's Diving Handicap and Boys' 100 Metres Handicap.

The draws for the Leinster Senior Cup have been made, the first round to take place at the Belvedere College Gala at Blackrock on Saturday, 6th September. Arrangements for the selection of the Leinster Water-Polo and Squadron Teams to oppose Ulster at the Templemore Baths, Belfast, on the 19th instant are in the hands of Messrs. H. F. Case, J. J. ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

FREE STATE ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING.

QUALIFICATION OF PLAYERS FOR INTERNATIONALS.

The third annual general meeting of the Free State Football Association was held last night in the Molesworth Hall, Sir Henry McLaughlin, President, in the chair.

The secretary's report and balance sheet were unanimously adopted after full discussion. The following officers were re-elected:—President, Sir Henry McLaughlin; Hon. Secretary, Mr. L. C. Sheridan; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. J. F. Smurthwaite.

Several minor alterations in the rules of the Association were approved of.

An important new regulation stipulates that "Players eligible to play in International matches shall be players born in the Irish Free State."

There was no discussion on the paragraphs dealing with the negotiations entered into with the I.F.A. in Belfast for the purpose of achieving unity in the control of Irish football. The paragraphs alluded to read:—

"Your Council continued during the past season their efforts to secure due recognition of the Association's rights. At the request of the Football Association delegates attended a conference at Liverpool in October, 1923, at which all the British Associations were represented. The outcome of the conference was the recognition of your Association as the sole governing body of football in the Irish Free State and the mutual recognition of suspensions imposed by the two Associations in Ireland. Your representatives offered to join with the Association in Northern Ireland in regard to Irish internationals, on condition that the committee controlling such games should comprise equal numerical representation from the two Irish Associations, and that Ireland's home games should be played alternately in Northern Ireland and the Irish Free State. The Irish Football Association, Ltd., declined to accept this proposal, which was accordingly not discussed further at the conference.

"The Consultative Committee appointed by your Council to deal with the matter resumed negotiations with the Irish Football Association, Ltd., and a conference between the two bodies took place at Belfast on 8th March, 1924. As a result a scheme was submitted, whereby there should be only one National Association in Ireland, on which there should be direct equal representation from the two existing Associations, with a permanent chairman from the I.F.A., Ltd., together with indirect representation in accordance with the number of clubs. This proposal was unanimously rejected by your Council, who offered, however, to continue the discussions if granted chairmanship of the new Joint Association in alternate years. This offer was rejected by the Irish Football Association, Ltd.

"As your Council have no intention of allowing the national rights to be permanently usurped by a small section of the country, they have instructed the Consultative Committee to take all necessary steps to enforce the claims of your Association."

THE GOLD CUP.

Last night's matches in the first round of the Gold Cup resulted as follows:—Glentoran 1, Cliftonville 0; Portadown 2, Queen's Island 2; Ards 0, Linfield 0; Distillery 6, Glenavon 2; Barn 3, Newry 0.

GOLF.

IRELAND V. THE MIDLANDS.

THE MIDLANDS TEAM.

The following is the Midlands' team to take part in the triangular golf match between the Midlands, Wales, and Ireland, at Dollymount, on Wednesday and Thursday next week:—Carl Bretherton (Handsworth) (captain), D. S. Bruce (Luffenham), G. N. P. Humphries and R. P. Humphries (Stourbridge), Stuart Kirl and J. H. Mackie (Notts), J. A. Morton (Leicestershire), N. H. Foster Pey (Buxton), and C. H. Prowse (Blackwell). G. N. P. Humphries and Prowse are ex-Cambridge captains.

HAVERS AND MACDONALD SMITH IN WALES.

MacDonald Smith, the famous American professional, and Arthur Havers, the ex-British Open Champion, along with George Gadd and Fred Collins, the Llandudno professional, figured in the programme at Wrexham yesterday. In a better ball match Havers and Gadd beat MacDonald Smith and Collins 3 and 2 up, while in a medal round Havers took first place with 73, constituting a record for the new course, Gadd 78, Collins 79 and Smith 84. In the main one way Smith's golf was disappointing, while Havers, out in 36, played a very sound game, despite the fact that he had 6's at the fifth and fifteenth holes. However, he had a 3 at the sixteenth.

In the fourball match which was played in the earlier part of the day it was remarkable that only four of the eighteen holes went to one side or the other. The first five were halved, and then Havers put his side ahead at the sixth, only to see his side's lead disappear at the eighth. Eight more holes were halved in succession, and then Gadd caused astonishment by using his putter for a putt off the green and some thirty yards from the hole. His effort won the hole for his side, and at the next Havers got a brilliant 2 to give his partner and himself a win by 2 holes and a better ball score of 70 for the round against two more by Smith and Collins.

NORTHERN PROFESSIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

Fine weather favoured the first day's play in the Northern Professional Championship at Donaghadee, Co. Down, yesterday. The conditions were 36 holes by strokes, players returning the four best cards to qualify for match play to-day. The best returns were:—Leo Wallace (Ormeau), 143; C. W. Pope (Fortwilliam), 145; H. M'Neill (unattached), S. Fairweather (Malone) and H. Hamill (Bangor), 149 each. The last three played off nine holes for the two places, and M'Neill and Fairweather qualified. The special prize for the first 18 holes was won by Wallace with 71.

ATHLETICS.

NATIONAL ATHLETIC AND CYCLING ASSOCIATION.

Mr. P. Lynch, K.C., presided at the meeting of the County Dublin Board, held on 25th inst. Lists for registration were submitted by Dublin City Harriers and Clonliffe Harriers, and passed. It was decided to hold the second annual cross-country rally early in October. Details and definite date will be settled at next meeting. Arrangements regarding conference to be held with a view to the establishment of a system of physical training for the youth of Ireland were further discussed, and it is hoped to have all completed and a definite date fixed at next meeting of the Board to be held on 8th September.

THE TAILTEANN GAMES.

LADIES' SWISS DRILL.

We are officially informed that the Mountpottinger (Belfast) Y.M.C.A. Gymnastic Team competed in the gymnastic section of the Tailteann Games, but owing to the fact that certain exercises had been performed to music, which, in the opinion of the judge (Mr. A. P. Clague), should not have been, it was found necessary to deduct a considerable number of marks. Under the circumstances he decided not to give any marks, as what he could give would be in no way representative of the team's ability. It is regretted that the team suffered through this technical error. They are being presented with a special set of medals as consolation prize. In fairness, it must be stated that some time ago the Tailteann Gymnastic Secretary informed the Mountpottinger G.C. that there was no objection to musical accompaniment.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

GUINNESS STILL A BUOYANT FEATURE. BANKS DULL. PROVINCIAL TRAM PREF. SCARCE. MARCONIS OFFERED. DUNLOPS AND PARENT TYRES NEGLECTED.

Guinness Ordinary shares once more were the outstanding feature on 'Change, and very large transactions were again put through. The price opened ½ higher at 48 for cash, with subsequent dealing at 48¼, ⅜, ½, a further rise of 1. The afternoon market was somewhat affected by sales to secure profits, and the prices quoted were 48⅜, ¼, 5/16, ¼, ⅜, 5/16, a fresh rise of 11/16 on the day and only 1/16 under the top price reached.

General business was poor in volume outside a comparatively few securities. Government Loan was weak at a fresh decline. British Funds were busy, and also dull in some cases. Banks turned weak, with Bank stock and Munster and Leinsters very dull markets. Distillery shares were firm. Dublin Distillers Pref. were harder. Marconi Ord. were on offer, but the price did not vary much. There was a small market in Home Rails. Dublin and South-Eastern Ord. and Great Northern Debs. closed higher. Dunlops, Gas, and Bakery shares were dull and neglected. Drapery shares were steady to firm. Very little change was shown in Textiles and Tobacco shares. Among Tramways, Provincial Pref. were bid up, unofficially, to 2 or 2¼ without getting any shares.

Government 5 p.c. National Loan fell ¼ to 93½.

British Funds were busy. Consols rose ⅛ to 57⅝. Conversion 3½ p.c. ⅜ to 77¼ x.d., and Irish Land 2¾ p.c. ⅛ to 59½, but War Loan 5 p.c. fell 1/16 to 101 1/16, after being 101⅝; ditto by Deed ⅛ to 101½, and India 3 p.c. 1/16 to 56 7/16.

In Corporation, etc., issues, Rathmines and Pembroke Main Drainage 4 p.c. repeated 79.

Banks had a dull tone. Bank stock fell ½ to 274, 275, and Munster and Leinsters 1/16 to 6⅝, ¾, both nominally. Hibernians lost 1/16 of the recent rise at 7⅝, but Nationals rose 1/16 to 20.

In the Brewery market, Guinness again monopolised attention. The price opened ½ higher at 48 for cash, and then for the new account 48¼, ⅜, ¼ was paid, a further rise of 1 on the day. The Pref. repeated 12¼ and J. Jameson and Son Debs. 7⅛, but Dublin Distillers Pref. rose 6d. to 69s. 6d. x.d. At the later market realisations were numerous, but well taken in Guinness Ord., which, from 48½, fell back to 48⅜, ¼, 5/16, ¼, ⅜, 5/16.

Marconi Ord. fell 3d. to 36s. 10½d.

As regards Home Railways, Dublin and South-Eastern Ord. rose ½ to 17 and Great Northern Debs. 1 to 70. Great Southern Ord. repeated 45⅛ and the Debs. 69⅜, but the Pref. fell ½ to 52½., Baronial Guaranteed shares were all on offer, but South and West Clares were both dealt in at 50s.

In Tramways, Dublin United Ord. repeated 6¼ and the "B" 3½ p.c. Debs. 68½. Provincial Pref. closed about 15s. higher at 2 to 2¼ buyers.

Alliance Gas shares show no change at 6½.

In Drapery shares, Arnott Pref. repeated 73s. 6d. and Switzer Debentures 6, while Switzer Ord. again closed 82s. 6d., 85s., nominally.

Among Manufacturing shares, Coats fell 3d. to 62s. for cash, but Cottons rose 3d. to 13s. 9d. x.d. Bradford Dyers were steady at 71s. and Calicos at 33s. Dublin and Wicklow Manure Pref. rose 5d. to 10s. Imperial Tobaccos eased 1½d. to 79s. 3d., but Courtaulds rose 1½d. to 52s. 9d.

In Trading, etc., E. and J. Burke Debs. recovered ⅛ to 8¾, while the Ord. repeated 74s. and the Pref. 70s. A. Millar and Co. Ord. fell 3d. to 12s. 6d. Irish Times Pref. repeated 66s. and Merchants' Warehousing 28s.

LONDON STOCKS STEADY.

15-POINT RISE IN GUINNESS STOCK.

The amount of business transacted on the Stock Market yesterday was on a slightly larger scale, but was mainly confined to semi-speculative issues. There was a good demand for Mining shares, while Tea issues were also heavily dealt in, and some good increases were recorded. In Breweries Guinness were again lively, and at the close of the session showed a gain of 15 points to 485, this being the highest price reached during the day. The close was steady. In gilt-edged securities British Funds were rather quiet; a good tone was in evidence, however. Consols repeated 57½, while War Loan issues all remained firm at overnight levels. Funding Loan at 90 and Victory Bonds at 92½ x.d. were both unchanged. In Conversions the 3½ p.c. dropped back slightly and finished ¼ lower at 77 x.d. The 4½ p.c., however, were quite firm at their previous level. Indias remained steady, while Local Loans repeated 66½.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES were quiet, but better where any change occurred. Peruvian were a bright spot. The Ord. put on ¼ to 3¾, while the Pref. closed ½ to the good at 32; the Deb. repeated 96. French Loans were unchanged, although a better tone was manifest. The Fives closed at 25 x.d., while the Fours were 19. German Threes opened lower, but hardened later and finished without alteration. Mexicans were firm, but without material change. Portuguese 3 p.c. gained ½ on the day to 26. Argentines and Brazilians were steady at previous quotations.

HOME RAILS were slightly better. Midlands Ord. put on a point to 99½ x.d. Great Westerns repeated 107½, while North-Eastern Pref.-Ord. were also without change at 81½ x.d. The Def.-Ord., however, closed ¼ higher at 30½. Metropolitans at 79 and Districts at 52 were both steady. In Southerns the Pref.-Ord. repeated 84½ x.d.; the Def.-Ord. at 42½ and the "A" Shares at 39½ were both without change. Undergrounds were firm at overnight quotations.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILS were extremely quiet, and the only change recorded was a drop of ½ in Buenos Ayres Great Southern to 87½. "Canpacs" remained steady at 167, while Argentines were all without alteration. Grand Trunk 4 p.c. Guaranteed remained at 81, while the Pacific 4 p.c. Debs. were also without change at 61½. Mexicans were quiet and finished at previous levels.

OIL SHARES FIRM.

A FEW GOOD FEATURES.

Although, so far as most of the leading shares were concerned, the Oil Share market had a none too bright appearance at the commencement of business yesterday, a distinct improvement became noticeable as the day progressed, a few good features being presented, and firmness prevailing at the close. As regards the recognised leaders, Royal Dutch and Shells came over easier from New York, and both shares were quoted lower at the start in consequence. Later, however, a demand arose, to which the quotations were not slow to respond, the early losses being soon made good, and bidding in the afternoon resulting in gains being marked at the close. New York operators were reported to be buying Royal Dutch in the afternoon. Anglo-Persians remained on the dull side, losses being marked in the Ord. and 9 p.c. Prefs., but Burmahs made a further slight recovery. Mexican Eagles commanded very little attention, but were nevertheless a trifle harder on balance. A strong and active feature was provided by Phœnix Oils, which met with strong buyers right from the start. Transactions were on a large scale throughout the day, and a further appreciable gain resulted from the day's business. Other Rumanians remained quiet. A fair amount of attention continued to be devoted to British Controlled, and, although they opened easier, the Common Shares recovered to the overnight's level; while the Pref., which were the more active, apparently in the belief that they may fare better in the scheme now under consideration by the directors, registered an improvement. As regards other Venezuelans, V.O.C. Holdings were a rather better market. Closing prices:—

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

DUNDALK GAS.—20/- per share on "A" Shares and 15/- per share on "B" Shares.

JAMES H. WEBB AND CO.—In a circular to shareholders the directors of James H. Webb and Co., Ltd., of Dublin, express their regret that the trade of the company during the period just closed has not made sufficient recovery to enable them to declare an interim dividend. In anticipation of an increased summer's trade, every preparation was made to cope with it by way of replenishing the stocks, etc.; but, owing to the extreme wetness of the season and the continued unemployment in the district, the last two months' turnover in business was most disappointing. The directors are, however, glad to report continued progress in the principal departments, there being an increasing demand for the goods of the company's own manufacture. They are, therefore, not without hope that next period's results will show substantial improvement.

LONDON MINING MARKET FIRM.

KEEN DEMAND FOR CANADIANS.

The better tone noted on the previous day was again in evidence in the House yesterday. Here and there a slightly easier tendency was displayed, but, on the whole, firmness prevailed. In the Mining Market the centre of activity was transferred to the Canadian section, where a keen demand was experienced for the leading counters. So far as Kaffirs were concerned the only feature was the sharp rise in Union Corporation Shares. Coming on the top of the good advance on the previous day, it is evident that the buying of these shares is persistent. Mozambiques were also a harder market. Although Paris was inclined to lend support, other movements in this section were few and against holders. The leaders, however, stood up well, Central Mining, Brakpan, Government Areas, Modderfontein and Van Ryn Deep being among those unchanged. Geduld eased a trifle, while Robinson Deep "B," Durban Deep, and "Wit." Deep also weakened. Rhodesians opened very firmly, but later in the day a spell of selling set in, and prices closed under the best. Chartered weakened, while Tanganyika and Zambesia Exploring were lower. On the other hand, Tanganyika Pref. gained a trifle, and Sherwood Starr improved. Interest in Chicago-Gaika revived, and a good advance was scored. De Beers Def. strengthened in Diamond shares, but Consolidated Diamonds declined. Base Metal prices were generally better, Tin rising £2 5s. to £253 2s. 6d. per ton. Rio Tintos recovered sharply, and a couple of other copper shares hardened. Closing prices:—

INDUSTRIALS UNDECIDED.

GUINNESS SHARES STRONGER.

Speaking generally, no decided tendency was displayed by the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday, business continuing on a small scale and centring mainly in specialities. Following the dividend announcement, Pinchin-Johnsons developed strength and closed 3/16 higher on balance at 3¼. Elsewhere in the Miscellaneous Trading section James Finlays further advanced to 69s. 9d. British Portland Cements were wanted and rose 9d. to 25s. 6d. Salt Unions gained 6d. at 25s. Dunlops improved to 8s. 10½d., while the "A" Prefs. moved up to 22s. Newspaper Shares remained steady at previous levels. Cables continued uncertain. In the Wireless section Marconi strengthened to 1 11/16, though Marines came on offer and receded to £1, or 1s. 3d. down on balance. The feature of the Stores section was a demand for Waring and Gillows, which raised the price 1s. 6d. to 8s. 6d., while the Prefs. moved up to 16s. 1½d. Textiles were well maintained, though there was little business passing. Renewed support for Bradford Dyers lifted the price another 6d. to 72s., while Amalgamated Cottons further improved to 9s. 6d. Bank Shares kept steady at previous levels and Insurances were rather firmer. Prudential "B" were wanted and left off another 1s. higher at 35s., while rises of ¼ occurred in Commercial Unions to 20¾ and in North British and Mercantiles to 19¼. Suns, however, weakened to 21½. Some good buying of Imperial Tobaccos of Canada caused them to finish 1s. 6d. up on the day at 26s. 9d., while United South rose 6d. to 73s. 6d. Otherwise prices in this section showed scarcely any quotable changes. Irons and Steels were off colour owing to fears of trouble among the miners regarding the Dawes reparations scheme.

Shipping issues remained steady at previous levels. Among Motors, Austin Debs. eased to 73½; Rolls-Royce fell 9d. to 26s. 6d. and Rovers 3d. to 11s. 3d., though some support for Napiers caused a recovery to 22s. 9d., or 9d. better. Among the Brewery section Guinness continued in favour, and the result was a further gain of 15 to 485. Watney Combe Def. were also supported and left off 2 better at 242½ x.d., and Buchanan Dewars hardened to 55s. 9d. W. H. Chaplins were a firm market at 21s. 3d. J. Lyons lost 1/16 to 4⅞ among Caterers. Land Shares were featureless. Among recent issues Home and Colonial Pref. continued in favour and further advanced to 11s. 6d. prem., and County of London Notes stiffened to ½ prem. Harland and Wolff Prefs., however, eased to 2s. 1½d. discount.

RUBBER SHARES FEATURELESS.

A fair amount of business was transacted in the Rubber Market yesterday, but the tone was irregular. Price changes were fairly frequent, and, on the whole, fairly evenly distributed. Batu Tiga put on 1s. 3d to 28s 9d. North Hummock closed 1s. to the good at 14s. 3d., while Malayalam at 33s. 2½d. x.d. were 3d. higher. United Temiang at 2s. 0¾d., and Tebrau at 28s. were 1¾d. and 1½d. higher respectively. Bukit Mertajam at 2s. 5¼d., and Kamuning at 2s. 2d. were both fractionally higher. Grand Central, on the other hand, dropped 1s. 3d. to 16s. 6d., while Pataling finished 1s. 1½d. down at 13s. 9d. Bah Lias closed 3d. lower at 29s., while B.N.B.R. Trust were also 3d. lower at 7s. 10½d. Cicely at 4s. 1½d., and Selangor at 3s. 4½d., were both 3d. lower, while Port Dickson at 1s. 11d. c.d., and Cheviot at 2s. 5d., were both 2½d. down. Anglo-Java lost 1½d. to 2s. 1½d. The price of rubber rose to 13⅝d. per lb. Closing prices:—

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANS AGAIN STRINGENT.

EXCHANGES IMPROVING.

There was again a good demand for loans yesterday, probably in preparation for the end of the month, and the Bank of England again did a small business in loans for a week on the usual terms. Advances over the night commanded up to 4 p.c., with 3½ p.c. the more general charge. Old loans were renewed at 3 to 3½ p.c. and weekly fixtures at 2¾ p.c. Business was quiet in the discount market. The banks were small buyers of September bills for delivery to-day at 3 7/16 p.c. and of Octobers at 3⅜ p.c., while the second-hand Treasuries were changing hands at a shade over 3⅜ p.c. The quotation for fine three months' paper was steady at 3⅜ p.c.

Gold fell 3d. per oz. to 92s. Silver rose ⅛d. per oz. to 34 5/16d. for both spot and forward delivery.

The tendency of foreign exchanges yesterday was generally favourable on the ratification by the French Senate of the London Pact. Sterling improved to $4.49 1/16-$4.49 3/16. and French francs were a shade better at 82.70-82.80, after being 82.35. Belgian francs appreciated to 89 7/16-89 9/16 and Italian lire to 101⅛-101¼. Holland was steady at 11.58-11.59 florins, and Spanish pesetas were not so good at 33.83-33.87. The Rio exchange was steady at 5 15/32-5 17/32 per milreis, but Argentine dollars were again better at 41⅛-41¼. Chili, however, was weaker at 44.20 pesos. Among Eastern exchanges China rates were firmer, but rupees gave way to 1s. 5 11/32d.-1s. 5⅜d., and Japanese yen relapsed to 1s. 10d.-1s. 10 1/32d. The following are closing quotations:—

COMPANY MEETING.

ASSAM CONSOLIDATED TEA ESTATES.

IMPROVED CROPS HARVESTED.

FAVOURABLE WEATHER PROSPECTS.

The statutory meeting of the Assam Consolidated Tea Estates, Ltd., was held yesterday in London—Sir John Prescott Hewett, G.C.S.I., K.B.E., presiding.

The Chairman said—Ladies and gentlemen, this is the first general meeting of the company, commonly called the statutory meeting, which has to be called within a short period of the company being started in order to comply with the provisions of the Companies Acts. The only item on the agenda is the submission of the report, which has been in your hands for some time, and you will, no doubt, like to have the information which the directors have so far of the manner in which the tea season is going. (Hear, hear.) The transfer of the estates taken over has recently been completed, and you will observe from the figures before you that we have paid the cash portion of the purchase price. We have also completed the arrangement foreshadowed in the prospectus for the continuance of the management by Messrs. Andrew Yule and Co. in Calcutta. The out-turn of tea from our gardens up to date is satisfactory, notwithstanding the unfavourable weather which has generally prevailed. It has been too wet in some parts and it has been too dry in others. Up to the end of July we had gathered a total of 16,571 maunds of tea, the equivalent of 1,325,680 lbs. This compares with 16,172 maunds in the past year, or an increase of 399 maunds, the equivalent of about 32,000 lbs., up to the same date last year. I am glad to say that the latest information shows that the unfavourable weather conditions do not prevail any more, but that the weather now is generally favourable.

Our tea up to the present has been chiefly sold in the East, the quantity and the average price realised showing very little change from the previous year. We have, however, recently had one shipment sent home, and there are three others on the way. The prices realised on that shipment were very satisfactory. Market conditions are strong and prospects are good. That is the information which the directors have to place before the meeting, and if any shareholder wishes to ask any questions we shall be pleased to answer them.

No questions were asked.

The Chairman—Then, gentlemen, that concludes the business of the meeting. I hope that when the time comes for us to hold our general meeting to consider the results of the year's working we shall be in a favourable position and able to satisfy you that the company is doing well. (Applause.)

The proceedings then terminated.
